

Strategies for Learning Spellings

From year 1, the types of spellings and spelling patterns that children are expected to know continue to increase. As well as further 'common exception words' (words that don't follow the usual rules but are used regularly), there is a whole series of spelling patterns and rules for children to learn. Teachers often find that getting children to learn spellings is something, but then getting them to use them in their everyday writing is another. All the more reason why children should practice their spellings in different ways and then be given the chance to use them in their writing. In addition, when a new spelling rule has been taught, children need to learn how to apply that rule to all words, not just a list they have been given to learn at home. If you wish to boost your child's spelling ability even further, encourage them to read, as exposure to lots of words will lead to a better understanding of spelling.

Here are some ideas for different ways to learn your spellings at home. Try one or two different ones each week and see which ones work best for you.

Copy Copping	Make the Headlines	Build a Pyramid
Write your words on three lines each, in different colours if you want to.	Cut letters out of newspapers or magazines and stick them onto paper to make the words in your list.	Make a pyramid using the letters in your words.

Strategies for Learning Spellings

Create with Colour	Capital Jobs	Learn Your ABC
Write your words with each letter in a different colour, or write them with all the vowels in blue and all the consonants in red.	Write your words three times, each in capital letters.	Write your words in alphabetical order, then rewrite them in order of the second letter, third letter and so on.

Take a Test	Picture This	Build a Sentence
Ask someone at home to test you by reading each word as you write it down. To make it more of a challenge, set a time limit, for example 20 seconds per word.	Include each of your words in a funny picture that makes you think of the word.	Write each of your words in a sentence but if you can build your sentences into a story.
