No Matter What Catherine Keller, 2024-12-03 A collection of essays that outline the recent work on ecology political theology religion and philosophy by one of the leading theologians of our age As we face relentless ecological destruction spiraling around a planet of unconstrained capitalism and democratic failure what matters most How do we get our bearings and direct our priorities in such a terrestrial scenario Species race sex politics and economics will increasingly come tangled in the catastrophic trajectory of climate change With a sense of urgency and of possibility Catherine Keller's No Matter What reflects multiple trajectories of planetary crisis They converge from a point of view formed of the political ecologies of a transdisciplinary theological pluralism In its work an ancient symbolism of apocalypse deconstructs end of the world narratives Christian and secular even as any notion of an all-controlling and good God collapses under the force of internal contradiction In the place of a once-for-all incarnation the materiality of unbounded intercarnation of fragile yet animating relations of mattering earth bodies comes into focus The essays of No Matter What share the preoccupation with matter characteristic of the so-called new materialism They also root in an older ecotheological tradition one that has long struggled against the undead legacy of an earth-betraying theology that with the aid of its white Christian right wing invests the denigration of matter its spirit of no-matter-in-limitless-commodification The fragile alternative Keller outlines here embraces no-matter-what-the-mattering-of-the-life-of-the-Earth-and-of-all-its-spirited-bodies These essays struggling against Christian and secular betrayals of the spirited matter of Earth work to materialize the still possible planetary healing

Communicating in the Anthropocene C. Vail Fletcher,Alexa M. Dare,2021-02-04 The purpose of Communicating in the Anthropocene Intimate Relations is to tell a different story about the world Humans especially those raised in Western traditions have long told stories about themselves as individual protagonists who act with varying degrees of free will against a background of mute supporting characters and inert landscapes Humans can be either saviors or destroyers but our actions are explained and judged again and again as emanating from the individual And yet as the coronavirus pandemic has made clear humans are unavoidably interconnected not only with other humans but with nonhuman and more than human others with whom we share space and time Why do so many of us humans avoid deny or resist a view of the world where our lives are made possible maybe even made richer through connection In this volume we suggest a view of communication as intimacy We use this concept as a provocation for thinking about how we humans are in an always already state of being in relation with other humans nonhumans and the land
