The Fragile Male:

The Fragile Male Ben Greenstein, 1994 The Fragile Male is the first study of male behavior through scientific observation Males may first have evolved to serve females by accident and virtue of their strength men grew to believe they were superior Dr Greenstein analyses and exposes human male behavior through revelatory comparisons with males of other species In many cases the same instincts that drive male animals to exclude females and seek dominance are responsible for human male behavior

Fragile Male Ben Greenstein, 1994-04 Using examples from the animal world this study of maleness as it has evolved in nature and particularly in humans argues that the male is becoming redundant The book aims to help men and women to understand man's current status and to contemplate his future and how it will affect women

The Fragile Male: the Decline of a Redundant Species Greenstein, Ben, 1993 Life Passages for Men James Wilder, 1997-04-04 We assume men grow up But do they Dr Jim Wilder contends that many men never fully mature because they fail to negotiate the passage from boyhood to manhood An almost equally tragic trend occurs when men never make the transition to grandfathers and elders in their families churches and wider communities

An International Psychology of Men Chris Blazina, David S. Shen-Miller, 2011-01-19 This text is the first to provide a contextual understanding of the clinical issues that affect men and masculinity across a wide range of cultural and national settings It demonstrates that gender can no longer be viewed as an isolated characteristic in an era of increased globalization mental health professionals need to take ethnic and cultural issues into account to provide adequate care for male patients Numerous international perspectives are offered by the contributing authors authorities from countries such as Australia Argentina Denmark Canada India Ireland and South Africa on theoretical and clinical innovations for working with men Their chapters also offer insight into the socio-cultural contexts for counseling men in and from their respective countries by exploring the ways in which being a man is socially defined what unique challenges men face and how these challenges can be negotiated within their specific cultural settings Topics addressed will include boyhood notions of manhood relationship concerns and power fatherhood and men's body image across the life span This text will ultimately enable mental health practitioners to have a better understanding of how to work more effectively with male clients

SAMJ, 1997 A Fine Young Man Michael Gurian, 1999-04-05 From depression to dropping grades from incidents of violence to teen suicide today's adolescent boys are one of the largest at risk groups in America today In this bracing and insightful book the bestselling author of The Wonder of Boys directs our attention to the unknown problems and marvels of this age group helping parents and mentors shepherd boys through the challenging ages of ten to twenty Puberty encourages guilty alienation and fear The result is that other boys often have a good deal of influence in the lives of younger adolescent friends for better or for worse A number of medical conditions have become almost common among adolescent boys at least in part because of a lack of support These range from simple depression to trauma to the elaborately named attention deficit hyperactive disorder ADHD Experimentation with drugs and alcohol has become almost common and these contribute to delinquency and sometimes even to suicide In A FINE YOUNG MAN Gurian establishes three major stages in a boy s progress to manhood transformation the metabolic changes from ages nine to thirteen determination characterized by alternate aggression and withdrawal and consolidation indicated by determining and testing definitions of adult male behavior He concludes by offering what he considers indications that the process of individuation has begun He returns often to the worthwhile observation that what boys need at every stage of the process of maturing is consistent support from a variety of sources both within and outside of the family It is this support that is too often lacking The Cure Desmond Coke,1912 Man to Man Talk about Women and Men Wilson T.
