Still In The Same Boat:

Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation Christian Kock, Lisa Villadsen, 2012-09-04 Citizenship has long been a central topic among educators, philosophers and political theorists. Using the phrase rhetorical citizenship as a unifying perspective, Rhetorical Citizenship and Public Deliberation aims to develop an understanding of citizenship as a discursive phenomenon, arguing that discourse is not prefatory to real action but in many ways constitutive of civic engagement. To accomplish this, the book brings together in a cross-disciplinary effort contributions by scholars in fields that rarely intersect. For the most part, discussions of citizenship have focused on aspects that are central to the liberal tradition of social thought, that is, questions of the freedoms and rights of citizens and groups. This collection gives voice to a republican conception of citizenship, seeing participation and debate as central to being a citizen; this tradition looks back to the Greek city states and republican Rome. Citizenship in this sense of the word is rhetorical citizenship. Rhetoric is thus at the core of being a citizen. Aside from the editors, the contributors are John Adams, Paula Cossart, Jonas Gabrielsen, Jette Barnholdt, Hansen Kasper Møller, Hansen Sine Nørholm, Just Ildik Kaposi, William Keith Bart van Klink, Marie Lund Klugeff, Manfred Kraus, Oliver W. Lembcke, Berit von der Lippe, James McDonald, Niels Møller Nielsen, Tatiana Tatarchevskiy, Italo Testa, Georgia Warnke, Kristian

Wedberg and Stephen West. MotorBoating, 1949-01 Motor Boat, 1921 Mobility Economies in Europe's Borderlands Marthe Achtnich, 2023-10-26 The arrival of unauthorised migrants at the shores of southern Europe has been sensationalized into a migration crisis in recent years. Yet these depictions fail to grasp migrants' experiences and fall short of addressing a more complex phenomenon. In this original ethnography, Marthe Achtnich examines migrants' journeys and economic practices underpinning mobility to recast how we think of migration. Bringing the perspectives and voices of migrants to the fore, she traces sub-Saharan migrants' journeys along one of the world's most dangerous migration routes through the Sahara Desert, Libya, and then by boat to Malta in Europe. Examining what she calls mobility economies, Achtnich demonstrates how these migrant journeys become sources of profit for various actors. By focusing on migrants' long and difficult journeys, the book prompts a necessary rethinking of mobile life, economic practices under contemporary capitalism, and the complex relationship between the two.
