The Heavens:

A Popular Guide to the Heavens Robert Stawell Ball, 1915 Glimpses into the heavens Samuel Fellows, 1901 Which is it? or, War in the heavens; a glimpse behind the scenes of an extreme ritualist, and his brother priest T H. Shaw, 1878 Writing the Heavens Aura Heydenreich, Florian Klaeger, Klaus Mecke, Dirk Vanderbeke, Jörn Wilms, 2024-12-30

In the Middle Ages and early modernity celestial observation was frequently a subject for verbal rather than numerical and geometrical recording. These records can now be difficult to decode since what they address is frequently obscured by formal conventions of genre, imagery, rhetoric, prosody, to name but a few. The volume collects essays exploring such configurations between literature and observation from Europe to China. How contributors ask were verbal representations of celestial phenomena encoded and self-consciously placed vis-à-vis other systems of representation and knowledge? What kinds of data are represented and what are the modes in which they are communicated? What interpretational problems arise when present-day disciplines like climatology, meteorology, geophysics, and astronomy but also literary studies try to access them? How were discourses on religion, law, anthropology, aesthetics, colonialism, etc. linked in and through their verbal presentation with astronomical observation and knowledge? How did individual scholars' texts and concepts travel between European and non-European cultures both in space and in time, and which constructions of self and other arose in the process?

Simplicius: On Aristotle On the Heavens 1.5-9 Simplicius, 2014-04-22

Aristotle argues in On the Heavens 1.5.7 that there can be no infinitely large body and in 1.8.9 that there cannot be more than one physical world. As a corollary in 1.9 he infers that there is no place, vacuum, or time beyond the outermost stars. As one argument in favour of a single world, he argues that his four elements—earth, air, fire, and water—have only one natural destination: apiece. Moreover, they accelerate as they approach it, and acceleration cannot be unlimited. However, the Neoplatonist Simplicius, who wrote the commentary in the sixth century AD, here translated into English, tells us that this whole world view was to be rejected by Strato, the third head of Aristotle's school. At the same time, he tells us the different theories of acceleration in Greek philosophy.

The Apocalypse Explained, According to the Spiritual Sense Emanuel Swedenborg, 1871 Heavens and the Heaven Uyiogh'Ogie Clement Omoruyi, 2020-12-30

Heavens and the Heaven looks at five levels of heaven. These are Life, Heights, Times, Power, and God. As far as the scriptures are concerned, the author could find no other heaven. In other words, we do not and cannot go to heaven when we die. In looking at hell, on the other hand, we also find that this is suffering, pains, and aches here on earth. Death and the grave is therefore the seal of this hell. Some have asked why do we believe in Jesus then? The answer is in Paul's Temple cry in the council of Acts 23:6: "Men and brethren, of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called." So the struggle continues to be choosing between our will or God's will, our traditions and belief system or the word of God as contained in the Bible, our sugar-laden, air-pocket-ridden leavened bread or God's choice of healthy unleavened bread. To introduce this book a little bit more, here is an excerpt from the theme of this work: If all living are in heaven, it may be hard for some to accept that those who are alive but ill and suffering are also in heaven This explains why too many folks refuse or find it difficult to accept that the life we enjoy now is all the heaven there is But the harsh reality is for as long as this present time remains life is all the heaven there is Whether we accept or believe it or not we LIVE out this heaven of life in Time in Height in Power and privileges and in God These all jointly and severally describes the five levels of the heavens there are But life makes sense of the others and everything else That life is in God His Spirit establishes that life in all living So when we talk of Life we inadvertently talk of the Deity of the universe The author s position in these is this Let this work help us to pause a moment Then reexamine the word of God in these views of our heavens also We may yet find that we have been with the traditions and belief of men long enough Our individual and joint finds should help ground us more strongly in whatever level in the Faith and understanding of the word of God we are in currently In this effort we should remember that the greatest of these all is to love God above all and our neighbor as ourselves Our neighbors are our family members immediate and extended members the Jews or Israel the Elect of God and our Father s first born The third are the folks we meet in our daily interactions
