The Heart Must Choose:

The Heart of Man Erich Fromm,2023-02-28 The acclaimed social psychologist and New York Times bestselling author of The Art of Loving discusses the nature of evil and humanity's capacity for it Originally published in 1964 The Heart of Man was influenced by turbulent times Average Americans were suffering from different forms of evil including a rise in juvenile delinquency On a grander scale the threat of nuclear war loomed over the nation and President John F Kennedy had been assassinated What could drive humanity to do things such as these In The Heart of Man renowned humanist philosopher and psychoanalyst Erich Fromm investigates man's capacity to destroy his narcissism and his incestuous fixation He expands upon ideas he presented in Escape from Freedom, Man for Himself and The Art of Loving and examines the essence of evil as well as the choice between good and evil He also explores man's ability to destroy and further considers freedom aggression destructiveness and violence The Heart of Man questions human nature itself from the forms of violence that plague it to individual and social narcissism to how the positive value of love of life can potentially outweigh the destructive syndrome of decay caused by the love of death and other harmful tendencies of thought Midwest Book Review Second Edition. Brief Memorials of ... T. Toye, Belfast. By His Widow (J. Toye). [With a Preface by Professor H. Wallace.] Mrs. Jane TOYE,1873

As Far As the Heart Can See Mark Nepo,2011-09-01 Stories carry the seeds of our humanness They help us teach us heal us and connect us to what matters As Far As the Heart Can See is an invitation to be in relationship with deep and life giving material Many spiritual gurus present dense metaphysical theses with an intellectual approach for working a spiritual path poet and philosopher Mark Nepo reaches people through their hearts bringing something fresh and new to the field by stimulating change through reflection of thoughts and feelings The stories he shares in As Far As the Heart Can See come from many places from Nepo's personal history to dreams to the myths of our ancestors Each one is an invitation to awaken an aspect of living in relationship with the sacred Following each of the forty five stories are three forms of an invitation to further the conversation journal questions table questions and meditations The questions whether reflected upon in a journal or discussed in deeper conversation with friends or family are meant to lead the seeker down unimagined paths and back into life the meditations are meant to ground the learning These stories and parables about universal concepts and themes offer a poet's sensuality and a philosopher's sensibility to personalizing the journey of the human experience in the world The Heart of the Matter Arthur Green,2015-04-01 Judaism like all the great religions has a strand within it that sees inward devotion as an opening of the human heart to God's presence This voice is not always easy to hear in a tradition where so much attention is devoted to the how rather than the why of religious living The devotional claim certainly a key part of Judaism's biblical heritage has reasserted itself in the teachings of individual mystics and in the emergence of religious movements over the long course of Jewish history This volume represents Rabbi Arthur Green's own quest for such a Judaism both as a scholar and as a contemporary seeker This collection of essays brings together Green's scholarly writings centered on the history of early Hasidism and his highly personal approach to a rebirth of Jewish spirituality in our own day In choosing to present them in this way he asserts a claim that they are all of a piece They represent one man s attempt to wade through history and text language and symbol an array of voices both past and present while always focusing on the essential question What does it mean to be a religious human being and what does Judaism teach us about it This the author considers to be the heart of the matter Publisher s description
