Examining the opportunities presented by the real-time generation of new, relatively unregulated content online, Uncommon Grounds evaluates the prominent role that new media has come to play in artistic practices and social movements in the Arab world today. Analysing alternative forms of creating, broadcasting, publishing, distributing, and consuming digital images, this book also enquires into a broader global concern: does new media offer a democratisation of and a productive engagement with visual culture or merely capitalise upon the effect of immediacy at the expense of depth Featuring full colour artists inserts this is the first book to extensively explore the degree to which the grassroots popularity of Twitter and Facebook has been co opted into mainstream media institutional and curatorial characterisations of revolution and whether artists should be wary of perpetuating the rhetoric and spectacle surrounding political events In the process Uncommon Grounds reveals how contemporary art practices actively negotiate present day notions of community based activism artistic agency and political engagement
