Carringer, 1986 Citizen Kane widely considered the greatest film ever made continues to fascinate critics and historians as well as filmgoers While credit for its genius has traditionally been attributed solely to its director Orson Welles Carringer's pioneering study documents the shared creative achievements of Welles and his principal collaborators The Making of Citizen Kane copiously illustrated with rare photographs and production documents also provides an in depth view of the operations of the Hollywood studio system This new edition includes a revised preface and overview of criticism an updated chronology of the film's reception history a reconsideration of the locus of responsibility of Welles's ill fated The Magnificent Ambersons and new photographs The Making of Citizen Kane Robert L. Carringer, 1985 Discusses the script art direction and cinematography of Orson Welles most famous film argues that it was a collaborative effort and examines Welles other efforts for RKO Citizen Kane Orson Welles, Herman Jacob Mankiewicz, Pauline Kael, 2002 The complete screenplay of one of the world's most famous and controversial films A definitive chronicle of the making of the film Sheridan Morley Films Filming This is the complete companion to Citizen Kane the film that was designed to shock Kenneth Tynan one of the best loved and best known movies in the history of Hollywood and still the most staggering film debut ever Not only was this Orson Welles's first film as actor and director but most of the cast were also new to the cinema Yet so controversial was the subject matter that an 842 000 bribe and the concentrated wrath of the Hearst newspaper empire combined in an attempt to strangle its distribution And the authorship of the film is still a subject of conflict Pauline Kael's long essay Raising Kane dissects a maze of Hollywood lore to re evaluate these and many other fascinating stories about the making of this remarkable film Her account is followed by the original screenplay illustrated with stills and frame enlargements Citizen Kane revolutionised film making and the question of its authorship is as important to the cinema as that of Hamlet to the theatre Pauline Kael explains how the picture came to be made and concludes that the man most responsible for its creation was not Welles but Herman J Mankiewicz Kenneth Tynan Observer Making of Citizen Kane (the). R.L. Carringer, 1985 At the End of the Street in the Shadow Matthew Asprey Gear, 2016-02-16 The films of Orson Welles inhabit the spaces of cities from America's industrializing midland to its noirish borderlands from

Europe's medieval fortresses to its Kafkaesque labyrinths and postwar rubblescapes His movies take us through dark streets to confront nightmarish struggles for power the carnivalesque and bizarre and the shadows and light of human character This ambitious new study explores Welles's vision of cities by following recurring themes across his work including urban transformation race relations and fascism the utopian promise of cosmopolitanism and romantic nostalgia for archaic forms of urban culture It focuses on the personal and political foundation of Welles's cinematic cities the way he invents urban spaces on film to serve his dramatic thematic and ideological purposes The book's critical scope draws on extensive research in international archives and builds on the work of previous scholars Viewing Welles as a radical filmmaker whose innovative methods were only occasionally compatible with the commercial film industry this volume examines the filmmaker's original vision for butchered films such as The Magnificent Ambersons 1942 and Mr Arkadin 1955 and considers many projects the filmmaker never completed an immense shadow oeuvre ranging from unfinished and unreleased films to unrealized treatments and screenplays
