The Man Who Didn't Fly:

The Man Who Didn't Fly Margot Bennett, 2021-01-05 The British Library presents another captivating example of classic crime fiction written in the Golden Age of Murder. Four men were due to fly to Dublin from England. But when disaster struck and the plane went down over the Irish sea, only three of them were on board. With the identities of the flyers scattered to the winds, the police turn to the Wade family whose patchy account and memory of their past few days hold the key to this elusive and tense mystery. Who was the man who didn't fly? And what did he have to gain by staying on the ground? Proof in one classic crime novel that Margot Bennett's tight and suspenseful writing is long overdue rediscovery. This British Library edition also includes the rare short story No Bath for the Browns. The Happy Marriage Tahar Ben Jelloun, 2016-01-12 Ben Jelloun is arguably Morocco's greatest living author whose impressive body of work combines intellect and imagination in magical fusion. The Guardian. In The Happy Marriage the internationally acclaimed Moroccan author Tahar Ben Jelloun tells the story of one couple first from the husband's point of view then from the wife's just as legal reforms are about to change women's rights forever. The husband a painter in Casablanca has been paralyzed by a stroke at the very height of his career and becomes convinced that his marriage is the sole reason for his decline. Walled up within his illness and desperate to break free of a deeply destructive relationship he finds escape in writing a secret book about his hellish marriage. When his wife finds it she responds point by point with her own version of the facts offering her own striking and incisive reinterpretation of their story. Who is right and who is wrong? A thorny issue in a society where marriage remains a sacrosanct institution but where there's also a growing awareness of women's rights. And in their absorbing struggle both sides of this modern marriage find out they may not be so enlightened after all.
