Witness To Genocide:

A Witness to Genocide Roy Gutman, 1993 Straight from today's front page headlines comes this shocking firsthand account of the current genocide perpetrated by Bosnia's Serbs against that country's Muslims. A Witness to Genocide is a compilation of Newsday foreign correspondent Roy Gutman's reports from Bosnia which won the 1993 Pulitzer Prize for International Reporting. Gutman and photographer Andree Kaiser whose photos illustrate this book were the first Western journalists to visit the death camps and Gutman was the first to interview the survivors and report on the atrocities that were taking place there. His articles were partly responsible for the United Nations condemnation of the camps and insistence that the International Red Cross be allowed to inspect them. The articles include survivors' accounts of being transported to the camps in cattle cars in which many died of starvation or suffocation, the systematic murder of prisoners, the government-ordered rape of all Muslim girls and women, and the destruction of the six hundred year old Muslim cultural heritage including over half of all mosques, historical sites, and libraries. Not since the Holocaust have such widespread, blatant, and unrestrained atrocities been committed against a defenseless minority. The articles are framed by a comprehensive prologue in which the recent history and breakup of Yugoslavia are explained, and an epilogue in which Gutman gives his recommendations on how to put a stop to this ongoing tragedy and prevent others in its wake. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. All Rights Reserved. A Witness to Genocide Roy Gutman, 1993 The Law of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia M. Cherif Bassiouni, Peter Manikas, 1996 This thorough commentary on the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia draws on legislative history, international and comparative law sources, and the Tribunal's Rules of Procedure and Evidence to analyze its workings, effectiveness, and significance in the development of international criminal law. In addition to its penetrating commentary, the book provides an overview of the conflict of the former Yugoslavia, an article-by-article analysis of the Statute, and annotated texts of the Rules of Procedure, the Rules on Detention, and the Directives for the Assignment of Defence Counsel.

Philosophical Witnessing Berel Lang, 2009-06-30 Fascinating philosophical inquiry into post-Holocaust representations of the event in political theory, ethics, and aesthetics, and an assessment of the limitations and promise of philosophical witnessing in relation to those issues. Witness to Genocide, 2001 Witness to Genocide Craig W. Nelson, Kenneth I. Taylor, 1983 The Moral Witness Carolyn J. Dean, 2019-04-15 The Moral Witness is the first cultural history of the witness to genocide in the West. Carolyn J. Dean shows how the witness became a protagonist of twentieth-century moral culture by tracing the emergence of this figure in courtroom battles from the 1920s to the 1960s, covering the Armenian genocide, the Ukrainian pogroms, the Soviet Gulag, and the trial of Adolf Eichmann. In these trials, witness testimonies differentiated the crime of genocide from war crimes and began to form our understanding of modern political and cultural murder. By the turn of the twentieth century, the witness to genocide became a pervasive icon of suffering humanity and a symbol of western moral conscience Dean sheds new light on the recent global focus on survivors trauma Only by placing the moral witness in a longer historical trajectory she demonstrates can we understand how the stories we tell about survivor testimony have shaped both our past and contemporary moral culture Victims and Witnesses in the International Criminal Court ,1999

We Charge Genocide Civil Rights Congress (U.S.),1952 Military Ethics Education and the Holocaust Michael Dobkowski,George R. Wilkes,2025-11-18 This book examines the nature of military ethics education after the Holocaust using a range of national case studies The volume examines educational opportunities offered by a range of militaries including the USA Australia Lithuania Austria and Israel and addresses substantive and contextual problems for ethical reflection on the basis of Holocaust history The first half of the work indicates how the particular educational gains sought from courses on the Holocaust and military ethics provide grounds for wider discussions of the normative consequences of engagement with the Holocaust The chapters in the second half of the book turn to a variety of historical contexts before and during the Holocaust which raise substantive ethical issues the formation of military professionals treatment of prisoners exercise of responsibilities in the face of institutional pressure the relationship between ethical outcomes and organisational ideology and the values of rescuers and resisters including those organising their resistance in divergent Jewish and Christian communities This volume will be of interest to students of military ethics peace and conflict studies defence studies Holocaust and genocide studies and World War II history Knowledge and Change in African Universities Michael Cross,amasa ndofirepi,2017-01-28 Besides the ongoing concern with the epistemological and theoretical hegemony of the West in African academic practice the book aims at understanding how knowledge is produced and controlled through the interplay of the politics of knowledge and current intellectual discourses in universities in Africa In this regard the book calls for African universities to relocate from the position of object to subject in order to gain a form of liberated epistemological voice more responsive to the social and economic complexities of the continent In itself this is a critical expos of contemporary practices in knowledge advancement in the continent Broadly the book addresses the following questions How can African universities reinvent knowledge production and dissemination in the face of the dominant Eurocentricism so pervasive and characteristic of academic practice in Africa to enhance their relevance to the contexts in which they operate How can such change particularly at knowledge production and distribution levels be undertaken without falling into an intellectual and discursive ghettoization in the global context What then is the role of academics policy makers and curriculum and program designers in dealing with biases and distortions to integrate policies knowledge and pedagogy that reflect current cultural diversity both local and global Against this backdrop while some contributions in this book argue that emancipatory epistemic voice in African universities is not yet born or it is struggling with little success many dissenting voices charge that if Africans do not take responsibility and construct knowledge strategies for their own emancipation who will Creating the Witness Leshu Torchin,2012-10-30 Since the beginning of the conflict in 2003 more than 300 000 lives have been lost in Darfur Players of the video game Darfur Is Dying learn this sobering fact and more as they work to ensure the survival of a virtual refugee camp The video game not only puts players in the position of a struggling refugee it shows them how they can take action in the real world Creating the Witness examines the role of film and the Internet in creating virtual witnesses to genocide over the last one hundred years The book asks how do visual media work to produce witnesses audiences who are drawn into action The argument is a detailed critique of the notion that there is a seamless trajectory from observing an atrocity to acting in order to intervene According to Leshu Torchin it is not enough to have a camera images of genocide require an ideological framework to reinforce the messages the images are meant to convey Torchin presents wide ranging examples of witnessing and genocide including the Armenian genocide the Holocaust engaging film as witness in the context of the Nuremberg trials and the international human rights organization WITNESS and its sustained efforts to use video to publicize human rights advocacy and compel action From a historical and comparative approach Torchin's broad survey of media and the social practices around it investigates the development of popular understandings of genocide to achieve recognition and response both political and judicial ultimately calling on viewers to act on behalf of human rights
