editors Chip's challenge when writing this book was to discover the thinking the process and the skills of great writers and to share them with others. He spent two years seeking out great journalists, writers, and interviewing them, collecting their answers to four simple questions in their own words and creating writing prompts to inspire and motivate other writers to explore their own writing process. These 55 interviews take a broad look at the researching, interviewing, and writing secrets behind Pulitzer Prize winners, journalism, and book award-winning writing. By asking each writer or editor four questions about lessons learned, Chip found some surprising answers, many metaphors, and the best writing advice the professionals have to offer.

The Writing Process David Hatcher, David P. Hatcher, Lane Goddard, 2005-03 Writing is more than a way to record sentences we've already shaped in our heads. As someone famously said, that's just typing. This book will help you develop an approach that includes the thinking part of writing. A series of logical steps will lead you from idea or assignment to finished written work. It answers some basic questions that every writer faces: How do I get organized? What do I do first? What next? How do I evaluate my drafts? How about word choice? When have I said enough? How should I end? Designed to help almost any writer, The Writing Process is also an excellent tool for teachers of writing as well as for parents who want to give their youngsters an extra boost.
