

1. Introduction
 The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of a new educational program on student performance. The program is designed to improve critical thinking and problem-solving skills through a series of interactive activities and projects. The study will focus on the following objectives:

1. To determine the impact of the program on students' scores in standardized tests.
2. To assess the program's effectiveness in enhancing students' critical thinking and problem-solving abilities.
3. To explore the program's impact on students' self-confidence and motivation.
4. To identify any challenges or barriers to the program's implementation.

The study is structured as follows: Chapter 1 provides an overview of the program and the research objectives. Chapter 2 discusses the theoretical background and the program's design. Chapter 3 describes the research methodology, including the sample and data collection methods. Chapter 4 presents the results of the study, and Chapter 5 discusses the implications and conclusions.
