Writing Quebec Selected Essays:

Writing Quebec Hubert Aquin, 1988 No description

National Manhood and the Creation of Modern Quebec Jeffery Vacante, 2017-06-15 This intellectual history explores how the idea of manhood shaped French Canadian culture and Quebec's nationalist movement. During the latter half of the nineteenth century, Quebec was an agrarian society and masculinity was rooted in the land and the family and informed by Catholic principles of piety and self-restraint. As the industrial era took hold, a new model was forged, built on the values of secularism and individualism. Jeffery Vacante's perceptive analysis reveals how French Canadian intellectuals defined masculinity in response to imperialist English Canadian ideals. This national manhood would be disentangled from the workplace, the family, and the land and tied instead to one's cultural identity. The new formulation was crucial in the larger struggle to modernize Quebec's institutions while preserving French Canadian community, faith, and culture. It offered French Canadian men a way to remodel themselves, participate in industrial modernity, and still assert cultural authority.

Encounters with Quebec Susan L. Rosenstreich, 1998 Whether Quebec is an old friend or new acquaintance, reading about its literature has to include at some point a consideration of the place itself. And coming into contact with current-day Quebec is not a simple matter. The very name Quebec has become a record of dynamic, at times troubled, meeting of cultures, the consequences of which do not appear to diminish with the passage of time but which instead produce an always more complex identity to match the place name. It is appropriate then that essays in a collection on contemporary narrative fiction in Quebec view their subject through perspectives that seek to illuminate that full diversity. In one way or another, but not in any single way other than in their provenance, the works of narrative fiction examined on the following pages are seen to be Québécois. They reflect distinct realities that belong to Quebec with all the representations of reality that site can offer. It has been the concern of the essayists to develop and focus their insights on Québécois fiction so that the diversity of its realities bring the reader closer to present-day Quebec.

Imagined Nations David Williams, 2003-03-24 In Imagined Nations, David Williams explores works by authors such as Alistair MacLeod, Michael Ondaatje, and Timothy Findley, examining the ways in which these writers show how our sense of time and space and our sense of personal and national identities have been altered by changes in modes of communication. He discusses how they have dramatized a series of shifts: from the oral clan to the nation of the book, Alistair MacLeod from print nationalism to radio confederacy, Wayne Johnston and from print stasis to an electronic space of flows, Michael Ondaatje. Some writers have resisted the threat of filmic images to print-formed communities, Timothy Findley, Guy Vanderhaeghe, while others have sought release from the prison of print, Hubert Aquin, or attempted to infiltrate cyberspace in the border war against globalization, William Gibson. Building on the work of Harold Innis, Williams joins other Canadians such as Marshall McLuhan, Ronald Deibert, and Gerald Friesen in extending and clarifying our understanding of the way differing media environments predispose us to imagine unique forms of political community.

Artistic License Darren

Hudson Hick, 2017-04-26 The art scene today is one of appropriation of remixing reusing and recombining the works of other artists From the musical mash ups of Girl Talk to the pop culture borrowings of Damien Hirst and Jeff Koons it s clear that the artistic landscape is shifting which leads to some tricky legal and philosophical questions In this up to date thorough and accessible analysis of the right to copyright Darren Hudson Hick works to reconcile the growing practice of artistic appropriation with innovative views of artists rights both legal and moral Engaging with long standing debates about the nature of originality authorship and artists rights Hick examines the philosophical challenges presented by the role of intellectual property in the artworld and vice versa Using real life examples of artists who have incorporated copyrighted works into their art he explores issues of artistic creation and the nature of infringement as they are informed by analytical aesthetics and legal and critical theory Ultimately Artistic License provides a critical and systematic analysis of the key philosophical issues that underlie copyright policy rethinking the relationship between artist artwork and the law It's Nation Time Jerry White, 2024-10-01 Speaking at the Congress of African People in September 1970 Amiri Baraka said In Newark when we greet each other on the streets we say what time is it We always say It s nation time Nationalism is about land and nation a way of life trying to free itself National identity and nationhood are too often easily dismissed as retrograde populism or racist exclusion Instead they need to be understood as a key part of a vision of globalization that holds the imperatives of diversity and solidarity in a delicate balance Jerry White offers a defence of the nation based on the assumption that struggles for national identity have often unfolded in ways that should be familiar to those who defend the political standpoint of the progressive left Having evolved into something that a wide variety of actors have sought to defend nations can also serve as a defence against the homogenizing forces of globalization and as havens of diversity in opposition to more singularly minded forms of affiliation It s Nation Time is structured as a series of specific case studies that speak to theories of nation and their historical and cultural manifestations It includes examples as varied as Black nationalism Simone Weil s hopes for a postwar France the first independence period of Georgia the Bollywood cinema of Nehru era India and small or stateless nations such as New Zealand Quebec Ireland Catalonia the M tis the Mohawk and the Inuit to argue that nationalism is a social form that has much potential and life in it Broadly internationalist but also deeply insightful about the particular cultures and politics of small nations It s Nation Time defends an idea of nation and a form of nationalism that are rooted in the potential for diversity flexibility and progressive politics Essays on Canadian Writing , 1983 The Bourgeois Frontier Jay Gitlin, 2009-12-01 Histories tend to emphasize conquest by Anglo Americans as the driving force behind the development of the American West In this fresh interpretation Jay Gitlin argues that the activities of the French are crucial to understanding the phenomenon of westward expansion The Seven Years War brought an end to the French colonial enterprise in North America but the French in towns such as New Orleans St Louis and Detroit survived the transition to American rule French traders from Mid America such as the Chouteaus and Robidouxs of St Louis then became agents of change in the West perfecting a strategy of middle grounding by pursuing alliances within Indian and Mexican communities in advance of American settlement and re investing fur trade profits in land town sites banks and transportation The Bourgeois Frontier provides the missing French connection between the urban Midwest and western expansion New Contexts of Canadian Criticism Ajay Heble, Donna Palmateer Pennee, J.R. Struthers, 1997-04-18 Times change lives change and the terms we need to describe our literature or society or condition what Raymond Williams calls keywords change with them Perhaps the most significant development in the quarter century since Eli Mandel edited his anthology Contexts of Canadian Criticism has been the growing recognition that not only do different people need different terms but the same terms have different meanings for different people and in different contexts Nation history culture art identity the positions we take discussing these and other issues can lead to conflict but also hold the promise of a new sort of community Speaking of First Nations people and their literature Beth Brant observes that Our connections are like the threads of a weaving While the colour and beauty of each thread is unique and important together they make a communal material of strength and durability New Contexts of Canadian Criticism is designed to be read to work in much the same manner Biographies. Criticisms. Later collected essays Oliver Goldsmith, 1885 Canadian Books in Print ,2003 French North America in the Shadows of Conquest Ryan André Brasseaux, 2020-12-29 French North America in the Shadows of Conquest is an interdisciplinary postcolonial and continental history of Francophone North America across the long twentieth century revealing hidden histories that so deeply shaped the course of North America Modern French North America was born from the process of coming to terms with the idea of conquest after the fall of New France The memory of conquest still haunts those 20 million Francophones who call North America home The book re examines the contours of North American history by emphasizing alliances between Acadians Cajuns and Qu b cois and French Canadians in their attempt to present a unified challenge against the threat of assimilation linguistic extinction and Anglophone hegemony It explores cultural trauma narratives and the social networks Francophones constructed and shows how North American history looks radically different from their perspective This book presents a missing chapter in the annals of linguistic and ethnic differences on a continent defined in part by its histories of dispossession It will be of interest to scholars and students of American and Canadian history particularly those interested in French North America as well as ethnic and cultural studies comparative history the American South and migration Canadiana ,1989 Our World Weekly ,1925 The Works of Oliver Goldsmith: Biographies. Criticisms. Later collected essays Oliver Goldsmith, 1885 French-Canadian Authors Mary Kanduik, 1990-11 Canadian Literature Index ,1988 Canadian Review of Comparative Literature ,1999 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1989 Jacques Cartier, His Life and Voyages Joseph Pope, 1890
