The Marc Brown Connection:

Marc Brown Connection Will C. Howell, 1991-01-01 At Arm's Length Mike Cadden, 2021-06-28 Literary critics and authors have long argued about the importance or unimportance of an author's relationship to readers. What can be said about the rhetorical relationship that exists between author and reader? How do authors manipulate character specifically to modulate the emotional appeal of character so a reader will feel empathy, awe, even delight? In At Arm's Length: A Rhetoric of Character in Children's and Young Adult Literature, Mike Cadden takes a rhetorical approach that complements structural, affective, and cognitive readings. The study offers a detailed examination of the ways authorial choice results in emotional invitation. Cadden sounds the modulation of characters along a continuum from those larger than life and awe-inspiring to the life-sized and empathetic, down to the pitiable and ridiculous, and all those spaces between. Cadden examines how authors alternate between holding the young reader at arm's length from and drawing them into emotional intensity. This balance and modulation are key to a rhetorical understanding of character in literature, film, and television for the young. Written in accessible language and of interest and use to undergraduates and seasoned critics, At Arm's Length provides a broad analysis of stories for the young child and young adult in book, film, and television. Throughout, Cadden touches on important topics in children's literature studies, including the role of safety in children's media, as well as character in multicultural and diverse literature. In addition to treating traditional works, he analyzes special cases, forms including picture books, verse novels, and graphic novels, and modes like comedy, romance, and tragedy.

Curriculum Connections for Tree House Travelers for Grades K-4 Jane Berner, Sabrina Minser, Helen Burkart Presser, 2007-10-15 If your students love the Magic Tree House books, you will love this book. Cross all curricular areas and engage students in meaningful and stimulating learning experiences. Guide students on thrilling trips through time to Magic Tree House locations where they will discover dinosaurs, knights, and castles, Egyptian mummies and pyramids, and pirates and buried treasure. Collaborate with technology specialists, art teachers, and classroom teachers to create units that touch every student. Find cross-curricular lessons and in-depth studies of time and place designed to promote deep learning in students while motivating them to read both fiction and nonfiction. Designed for elementary students, these literature-based units are easily adaptable to middle school students.

CyberLit Marilyn Dover Newman, 2004 This book is a compilation of outstanding children's authors' websites, children's literature websites, and notable storybook character websites that go beyond the ordinary content. Provided at your fingertips, this directory helps teachers to obtain biographic information about authors and illustrators to learn how authors get their ideas for stories, to learn how books are made, and illustrations created, to learn how to extend the books within the framework of the curriculum, and to know which websites to go to for recommended lesson plans and book-related activities for classroom projects and units.

Catalog It! Allison G. Kaplan, 2015-12-07 Whether you're a practicing cataloger looking for a short text to update you on the application of RDA to cataloging records, or a school librarian who needs a quick resource to answer cataloging questions this guide is for you Since the last edition of this invaluable text was published the library world has experienced a revolution in descriptive cataloging the likes of which has not been seen since the early 1980s This updated third edition of an established and well respected guide makes it easy for you to stay in step with those monumental changes The book will help you understand the latest fundamentals of cataloging so you can get items on the library shelves quickly and efficiently Every chapter has been revised Changes in standards including RDA and BISAC that were alluded to in the second edition are discussed in depth and illustrated with explanations and sample problem sets are included so you can put theory into practice In addition the book provides you with clear headings for easy scanning as well as cheat sheets and templates for creating records for book and non book items Previous editions of this text have been used by library practitioners and library and information science professors across the country because of its spot on easy to follow guidance on cataloging for school libraries This new edition builds upon those strengths adding everything you need to know about current groundbreaking changes
