Abandoned Buildings in Contemporary Cities: Smart Conditions for Actions Isabella M. Lami, 2020-01-08 Is it possible to energise the reuse of urban abandoned spaces with low financial capital investment Addressing this question requires a normative and cultural change where the rules are less focused on the material processes of producing space and more aimed at fostering the construction of relationships The reality of several European cities shows how traditional forms of stimulating urban renewal with respect to the financing of operations how to design and build and urban planning legislation no longer work This book examines an alternative culture of design and regulation drawing on the richness of the various approaches to the subject to present an integrated study of the phenomenon of reuse across its economic architectural and urban dimensions From this theoretical base it empirically analyses six Italian case studies in terms of the broadness of geography and in their governance models and of the important role of the unity of cultural destination for their reuse proposal The book is intended for all those involved in the cultural challenge of reusing urban abandoned spaces including public administrators entrepreneurs architects planners and academics

The COVID-19 Pandemic and the Future of Working Spaces Ilaria Mariotti, Mina Di Marino, Pavel Bednář, 2022-08-29 This edited volume presents a compendium of emerging and innovative studies on the proliferation of new working spaces NeWSps both formal and informal such as coworking spaces maker spaces fab labs public libraries and coffee shops and their role during and following the COVID 19 pandemic in urban and regional development and planning This book presents an original interdisciplinary approach to NeWSps through three features i situating the debate in the context of the COVID 19 pandemic which has transformed NeWSp business models and the everyday work life of their owners and users ii repositioning and rethinking the debate on NeWSps in the context of socioeconomics and planning and comparing conditions between before and during the COVID 19 pandemic and iii providing new directions for urban and regional development and resilience to the COVID 19 pandemic considering new ways of working and living The 17 chapters are co authored by both leading international scholars who have studied the proliferation of NeWSps in the last decade and young talented researchers resulting in a total of 55 co authors from different disciplines 48 of whom are currently involved in the COST Action CA18214 The Geography of New Working Spaces and Impact on the Periphery 2019 2023 www new working spaces eu Selected comparative studies among several European countries Western and Eastern Europe and from the US and Lebanon are presented The book contributes to the understanding of multi disciplinary theoretical and practical implications of NeWSps for our society economy and urban regional planning in conditions following the COVID 19 pandemic The Open Access version of this book available at www taylorfrancis com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license

Urban Informatics Kristene Unsworth, Andrea Forte, Richardson Dilworth, 2017-10-02 Information shapes urban spaces in ways that most people rarely stop to consider From data driven planning to grassroots activism to influencing the routes we walk bike and drive new information technologies are helping city dwellers to leverage information in new ways These technologies shape the uses and character of urban spaces Information technologies and tools such as social media and GIS tracking applications are being used by individuals as they go about their daily lives not as alternatives to social interaction but as opportunities to participate in the shared experience of urban life This edited volume focuses on the creative application and management of information technologies in urban environments with an emphasis on the intersection between citizen participation in creating city environments and the policy making that supports it The chapters address critical issues including the digital divide transportation planning use of public spaces community building and local events This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Technology
