Cahier Seven June 1998 Tacita Dean, Michel François, Pierre Bismuth, Rita McBride, Witte de With, centrum voor hedendaagse kunst, 1998 Cahier, 1998 From #1, September 1999, Witte de With Center for Contemporary Art, Rotterdam Witte de With, centrum voor hedendaagse kunst, 1999 Selection and translation of the articles appeared in various journals in various languages From #2, April 2000, Witte de With Center for Contemporary Art, Rotterdam Witte de With, centrum voor hedendaagse kunst, 2000 From 2 features a series of short essays which provide an art historical and theoretical context for the Witte de With's exhibition program and will investigate and represent the European cultural identity as seen through the practice of contemporary art From, 2000 The Art of Mechanical Reproduction Tamara Trodd, 2015-09-25 The Art of Mechanical Reproduction presents a striking new approach to how traditional art mediums painting sculpture and drawing changed in the twentieth century in response to photography film and other technologies Countering the modernist view that the medium provides advanced art with resistance against technological pressures Tamara Trodd argues that we should view art and its practices as imaginatively responding to the potential that artists glimpsed in mechanical reproduction putting art into dialogue with the commercial cultures of its time The Art of Mechanical Reproduction weaves a rich history of the experimental networks in which artists as diverse as Paul Klee Hans Bellmer Ellsworth Kelly Robert Rauschenberg Gerhard Richter Chris Marker and Tacita Dean have worked and it shows for the first time how extensively technological innovations of the moment have affected their work Original and broad ranging The Art of Mechanical Reproduction challenges some of the most respected and entrenched criticism of the past several decades and allows us to think about these artists anew Cahier Barbera van Kooij, 1998 Diaspora and Visual Culture Nicholas Mirzoeff, 2014-04-04 This is the first book to examine the connections between diaspora the movement whether forced or voluntary of a nation or group of people from one homeland to another and its representations in visual culture Two foundational articles by Stuart Hall and the painter R B Kitaj provide points of departure for an exploration of the meanings of diaspora for cultural identity and artistic practice A distinguished group of contributors who include Alan Sinfield Irit Rogoff and Eunice Lipton address the rich complexity of diasporic cultures and art but with a focus on the visual culture of the Jewish and African diasporas Individual articles address the Jewish diaspora and visual culture from the 19th century to the present and work by African American and Afro Brazilian artists Où je suis, vu du ciel Michel François, 1999 Inverted Utopias Héctor Olea Galaviz, Mari Carmen Ramírez, Mari Carmen Ramirez, Héctor Olea, Hector Olea Hernandez, 2004-01-01 In the twentieth century avant garde artists from Mexico Central and South America and the Caribbean created extraordinary and highly innovative paintings sculptures assemblages mixed media works and installations This innovative book presents more than 250 works by some seventy of these artists including Gego Joaquin Torres Garcia Xul Solar and Jose Clemente Orozco and artists groups along with interpretive essays by leading authorities and newly translated manifestoes and other theoretical documents written by the artists Together the images and texts showcase the astonishing artistic achievements of the Latin American avant garde The book focuses on two decisive periods the return from Europe in the 1920s of Latin American avant garde pioneers and the expansion of avant garde activities throughout Latin America after World War II as artists expressed their independence from developments in Europe and the United States As the authors explain during these periods Latin American art was fueled by the belief that artistic creations could present a form of utopia an inversion of the original premise that drove the European avant garde and serve as a model for Modern Art IJsbrand M. C. Hummelen, Dionne Sille, 2005 The conservation of contemporary art should not be a static process carried out behind closed doors but dynamic and open to discourse New media and new materials constantly present issues which traditional conservation methods cannot address and a continual search for new techniques is therefore required This dynamic research may include interviews with artists documentation of artists materials the recording of image word or sound of performances installations temporary and permanent visual art scientific research into the identification composition ageing and preservation of modern materials This volume an Archetype reprint of the volume first published by The Foundation for the Conservation of Modern Art and the Netherlands Institute for Cultural Heritage makes a most important contribution to the on going debate by presenting the conservation challenges relating to ten objects of different media and materials plastics kinetic objects monochromes and works of mixed media of considerable art historical value The ten studies include the works of Jean Tinguley Piero Manzoni Tony Cragg and Mario Merz In addition to case studies this volume includes symposium papers by art historians physicists philosophers artists conservators and critics on topics as varied as accidental damage working with artists packing and transport installation identifying plastics ethics training databases etc Key articles in this volume offer solutions to basic problems that can then be applied in daily practice this extensive and handsome work is a godsend for modern art restorers Restauro a publication of this nature should be of interest to anyone who cares for modern art including owners and curators as well as the conservation profession Studies in Conservation if your area is modern art you will want a copy WAAC Newsletter installations are created for specific locations and are usually intended as temporary artworks. The Perpetuation of Site Specific Installation Artworks in Museums Staging Contemporary Art shows that these artworks consist of more than a singular manifestation and that their lifespan is often extended. In this book Tatja Scholte offers an in depth account of the artistic production of the last forty years. With a wealth of case studies the author illuminates the diversity of site specific art in both form and content as well as in the conservation strategies applied. A conceptual framework is provided for scholars and museum professionals to better understand how site specific installations gain new meanings during successive stages of their biographies and may become agents for change in professional routines.
