This book is a great for all parents to implement simple strategies into their lives and teach their children at an early age how to manifest their dreams how to visualize anything they want to accomplish how to be grateful for all the things they have in their lives right now and how giving works Find your Why The Law of Attraction The Power of Rituals and Habits Know your numbers Your mindset and how to shift it Setting your expectations Responsibility etc These are not concepts and strategies that most people associate with children but the earlier they learn the power of these strategies and start to implement them into their lives the more successful they will become in life The book will give the family as a whole great value and give the parents who are not already implementing personal growth strategies the understanding that when we work on ourselves and then teach our children the same that s when we really are contributing our time for our children s futures Parents for a Future Rupert Read,2021-01-21

That our ecological future appears grave can no longer come as any surprise And yet we have so far failed collectively and individually to begin the kind of action necessary to shift our path away from catastrophic climate collapse In this stark and startling little book Rupert Read helps us to understand the direness of our predicament while showing us a metaphor and a method a way of thinking by which we might transform it From the relatively uncontroversial starting point that we love our own children we are introduced to a logic of care that iterates far into the future in caring for our own children we are committed to caring for the whole of human future in caring for the whole of human future we are committed to caring for the future of the natural world Out of such thinking hope emerges As Read demonstrates in this urgent call to action accepting that we care for our own offspring commits us to a struggle on behalf of us all The Teenager In The Greenhouse: A psychologist's guide to parenting your teenager Graham Ramsden,2019-02-04 If you are a parent of a teenager you will have experienced the frustration and bemusement that their strange and emotional logic creates But can we really just blame it on their hormones and wiring This book is based on the research used in a popular and effective nine week course run by the author aimed at equipping parents with the understanding of why teenagers behave as they do and explores effective tools take away a lot of stress in dealing with them It looks at how parenting styles and different interactionist models impact on our relationship with these emotional and argumentative beings The teen in the greenhouse looks at the world through the filter of a teenage brain and uses a range of neurological and socio psychological models to explore how adults can moderate their interactions with them to make parenting teenagers easier It explores ways in which the teenage brain uses and misuses emotions to make misguided decisions and how we can help support better decisions being made and reduce arguments The book provides a thorough and at times humorous exploration of what is happening to the teenage brain and how this impacts on those who help them
