Writing Home Elmer Kennedy-Andrews, 2008 The idea of place and of being displaced is a powerful leit motif in Northern Irish poetry It is here explored in depth from the 1960s to the present day Ideas of home place and identity have been continually questioned re imagined and re constructed in Northern Irish poetry Concentrating on the period since the outbreak of the Troubles in the late 1960s this study provides a detailed consideration of the work of several generations of poets from Hewitt and MacNeice to Fiacca and Montague to Simmons Heaney Mahon and Longley to Muldoon Carson Paulin and McGuckian to McDonald Morrissey Gillis and Flynn It traces the extent to which their writing represents a move away from concepts of rootedness and towards a deterritorialized poetics of displacement mobility openness and pluralism in an era of accelerating migration and globalisation In the new readings of place inherited maps are no longer reliable and home is no longer the stable ground of identity but seems instead to be always where it is not The crossing of boundaries and the experience of diaspora open up new understandings of the relations between places a new sense of the permeability and contingency of cultures and new concepts of identity and home Professor ELMER KENNEDY ANDREWS teaches in the Department of English at the University of Ulster

Writing Home Emma Alderson, 2020-10-16 Writing Home offers readers a firsthand account of the life of Emma Alderson an otherwise unexceptional English immigrant on the Ohio frontier in mid nineteenth century America who documented the five years preceding her death with astonishing detail and insight Her convictions as a Quaker offer unique perspectives on racism slavery and abolition the impending war with Mexico presidential elections various religious and utopian movements and the practices of everyday life in a young country Introductions and notes situate the letters in relation to their critical biographical literary and historical contexts Editor Donald Ulin discusses the relationship between Alderson s letters and her sister Mary Howitt s Our Cousins in Ohio 1849 a remarkable instance of transatlantic literary collaboration Writing Home offers an unparalleled opportunity for studying immigrant correspondence due to Alderson s unusually well documented literary and religious affiliations The notes and introductions provide background on nearly all the places individuals and events mentioned in the letters Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press
