I remember my older siblings, Juanita, Laverna, SK, and Clarence. I had one younger sister, Ida, who I was responsible for looking out for after coming up. My older siblings, who soon married and moved out of the house, so I suppose that left me caring for my youngest sister, Ida. My dad, Charles Taylor Wright, worked for the New York Central Railroad, and my mom, Katherine, and my grandmother ran the restaurant, or should I say cafe, is what they called them back then. So my mom and grandmother were always working and cooking at the cafe, and I was the middle child left at home to do the cooking and cleaning for me. My youngest sister, Ida, and my younger brother, Clarence, so every day after school was out, I went home to cook and clean for my siblings before I went out to play with my friends. I would always stop over my older sister's house to watch her cook since they lived right next door. My older sister, Juanita, was married to Sammy, a military guy. Sammy was a real nice guy, but he suffered a lot of flashbacks from the war and being in the military. So I would always take my friends with me just in case he was having a bad day. Some days I would stop and visit my sister, Juanita, and if she wasn't home from work yet, and Sammy would come to the door yelling real loud, "Who is it?" My friends and I would run and jump off the steps real fast, laughing because Sammy was having a bad day. However, I always had my mom, grandmother, aunt, and older sister to teach me certain things to cook. I remember burning up so many pots and pans until I was almost banned completely from the kitchen. HA HA. I soon grew up, graduated from high school, married with a family of my own, and me and my husband at the time had five children: Curtis, Brian, Derrick, Kimberly, and Delbert. So I was
