

Labeling an Insect Activity

Use these fun insect coloring pages to teach children about insects.

The head of the insect contains most of the sensory organs, such as the eyes, antennae and mouthparts. These structures allow the insect to breathe, see, smell, feel and taste. Insect bodies are made of segments, with the segments on the head, thorax and abdomen. Insects also have six legs. For example, the ant moves using muscle to pull its body forward for the next step.

The thorax is the central region of the body where the legs and wings are attached. Insects have six legs, with one pair on each side. The legs are divided into three segments. The middle segment has two wings, which are attached to the wing bases.

The abdomen is the largest part of the body and contains the insect's internal organs. Insects have two pairs of wings, which they use to fly. The wings are attached to the thorax of the insect.

Use the following steps of insect coloring to learn about insects.
