The Structure of Human Personality (Psychology Revivals) H.J. Eysenck, 2013-06-06 This collection of twenty books is a chance to discover a diverse range of topics across the behavioural sciences From cognitive to social psychology psychiatry to psychoanalysis and many others in between It includes early works from psychologists who went on to become leaders in their fields as well as shaping the world of psychology as we know it today A great opportunity to acquire an eclectic mix of psychology titles from throughout the twentieth century

A Theory of the Human Personality Lisle James Koch, Bernard Kleinman, 1965 The problem of understanding the human personality faces each new generation Everyone has implicit ideas of how and why people behave as they do but to formalize in systematic fashion those ideas is another matter and the problem of personality theorizing This paper has attempted to set forth some basic criteria for developing a theory of personality which includes relevance brevity and clarity internally consistent assumptions and propositions scope and comprehensiveness adequate communication and consideration of individual and group norms This theory of personality attempts to present a real person theory whose personality structure has been divided into three major divisions explicitly state by Christ himself in Matthew 22 37 Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart with all thy mind and with all thy strength 1 Kardia which is the heart containing the seat of man s willing feelings and emotions 2 Psyche which is the soul or life energy principle of man s body spirit and kinesthetic sensing 3 Dianoia which is the full intellect of man which understands makes insightful decisions makes value judgements and possesses a knowledge shared with himself by way of a conscience These structural aspects are structurally similar to Freud s tripartite structure of personality These similarities and many others illustrated in this paper suggest a thread of unity in historical and current conceptualization of what the human personality is and how it behaves and interacts intrapsychically and interpersonally The dynamic overlap and interaction of the concepts also suggest that personality theory must remain a dynamic and evolving discipline in the study of human nature and behavior in as much as it is ever dealing with a changing individual who lives in ever changing situations

The Nature of Human Personality G. N. M. Tyrrell, 2019-03-04 For over thirty years G N M Tyrrell devoted himself to the study of psychical phenomena Originally published in 1954 in his last book written just before his death he probes as deeply as possible into the meaning of the results of psychical research He believes that paranormal phenomena are not isolated occurrences due to the exceptional gifts of a few unusual persons but the result of capacities which all human beings possess though in widely varying degrees After an introductory chapter on Psychology and Psychiatry the chief psychical phenomena extra sensory perception mediumship apparitions etc are discussed and illustrated Then follows a general criticism of current attitudes towards the subject The book ends with two chapters arguing that the normal and paranormal are one and suggesting a pathway to religion

Singer,1996 Textbook Divine Personality and Human Life Clement Charles Julian Webb,1920 The Final Destination of the Human Soul Anthony Bright Atwam,2014-02-13 There are many beliefs and theories about the human soul and many great thinkers have sought to understand this aspect of the human personality All the major theories and beliefs about the human soul are of the view that the human soul is immortal that is the soul lives forever If the human soul is immortal where does it go after death In this book the author discusses the final destination of the human soul and the means by which people can be saved and be sure of where their soul will depart to after death to rest peacefully It is appointed unto man to die once and after that to face judgment He recommends this book to everyone singles marriage couples non Christians church goers people of other faith older people and the youth The human personality is made up of body spirit and soul The body needs food water exercise emotional satisfaction but what about the soul and the spirit It is no good we ignore addressing these issues or to simply dismiss them as myth or nonsense because eternity is part of the human personality We need to know where exactly our soul will depart to after death Human Rights, Inc. Joseph R. Slaughter,2009-08-25 In this timely study of the historical ideological and formal interdependencies of the novel and human rights Joseph Slaughter demonstrates that the twentieth century rise of world literature and international human rights law are related phenomena Slaughter argues that international law shares with the modern novel a particular conception of the human individual The Bildungsroman the novel of coming of age fills out this image offering a conceptual vocabulary a humanist social vision and a narrative grammar for what the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and early literary theorists both call the free and full development of the human personality Revising our received understanding of the relationship between law and literature Slaughter suggests that this narrative form has acted as a cultural surrogate for the weak executive authority of international law naturalizing the assumptions and conditions that make human rights appear commonsensical As a kind of novelistic correlative to human rights law the Bildungsroman has thus been doing some of the sociocultural work of enforcement that the law cannot do for itself This analysis of the cultural work of law and of the social work of literature challenges traditional Eurocentric histories of both international law and the dissemination of the novel Taking his point of departure in Goethe s Wilhelm Meister Slaughter focuses on recent postcolonial versions of the coming of age story to show how the promise of human rights becomes legible in narrative and how the novel and the law are complicit in contemporary projects of globalization in colonialism neoimperialism humanitarianism and the spread of multinational consumer capitalism Slaughter raises important practical and ethical questions that we must confront in advocating for human rights and reading world literature imperatives that today more than ever are intertwined
