Sermons are an invaluable source for our knowledge of religious history and sociology anthropology and the mental landscape of men and women in pre modern Europe of what they were taught and what they practiced But how did an individual process the preached message from the pulpit How exactly do written sermons duplicate the preached Word Do they at all The 11 leading scholars who have contributed to this book do not offer uniform answers or an all encompassing study of preaching in the Reformations and early modern period in Europe They do however provide new insights on Catholic Lutheran and Reformed preaching in Western and Central Europe Part One examines changes in sermon structure style and content in Christian sermons from the thematic sermon typical of the Middle Ages to the wide variety of later preaching styles Catholic preaching after Trent proves not to be monolithic and intolerant but a hybrid of forms past and present applied as needed to particular situations Lutheran homiletic theory is traced from Luther and through Melancthon the intention of the sermon being to transform the worship service based on exegesis of Scripture In Reformed worship the expository sermon often given on a daily basis with a continuing exegesis was designed to communicate the tenets of the faith in terms that the laity could understand plain style Part Two deals with the social history of preaching in France where preachers often incited their hearers to attack human beings or holy objects or were themselves attacked in Italy where preaching became a collective and home grown product in early modern Germany where the authorities strove for uniformity of preaching practice and the preacher was seen as a moral guardian in Switzerland where leaders from Zwingli on sought to bring religious practice conduct and government in line with biblical teaching and propagated a pastoral vision of preaching in England where after the Reformation preachers became the indispensable agents of salvation but clergy and congregations were often ill prepared for the task in Scandinavia where post Reformation sermons have a clear didactic aim teaching obedience to the authorities and in the Low Countries characterised by its numerous denominations all with their own churches and particular practices in terms of preaching The volume ends with a consideration of the influence of late medieval preaching on the Reformation concluding that the diversity of emphasis on how the practice of penance was preached and received very likely affected the appeal or not of the Lutheran Reformed message in a given country Preachers and People in the Reformations and Early Modern Period is also published by Brill in paperback ISBN 0 391 04203 3 still available
