Serwa knows that some fireflies are really adze shapeshifting vampires from the forests of Southeastern Ghana. Adze prey on the blood of innocents, possessing their minds and turning them into hulking monsters, and for generations slayers like Serwa and her parents have protected an unknowing public from their threats. Serwa is the best adze slayer her age, and she knew how to use a crossbow before she could even ride a bike. But when an obayifo witch destroys her childhood home while searching for a drum, do Serwa's parents take her with them on their quest to defeat her? No. Instead, they dump Serwa with her hippie aunt and cryptic, obsessed cousin in the middle of Nowheresville, Maryland, for her own safety. Now, instead of crossbows and battle armor, she's dealing with mean girls and algebra, and for the first time in her life, she doesn't have to carry a staff everywhere she goes, which is kind of nice, actually. Just as Serwa starts to get the hang of this whole normal girl who doesn't punch vampires every day thing, an adze infiltrates her school. It's up to her to whip some of her classmates into monster-fighting shape before all of them become firefly food. And when she uncovers a secret that upends everything she thought she knew about her family's role in the slayer vs. adze war, Serwa will have to decide which side of herself, normal girl or slayer, is the right one. After all, seventh grade is hard enough without adding vampires to the mix.

Connor lived an average life for eighteen years. Between procrastinating in school and butting heads with his stepfather, the most he had to worry about was pining for romance. But when the metal band in town turns out to be a deadly cartel of blood-hungry vampires, his senior year of high school goes from mismanaged to manhunt, and he becomes the number one target for every blood sucker in the city. His only hope for survival lies in the hands of another class of vampire: the well-dressed Arthurian knights. Not only are they real-life descendants of King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table, they are both vampires and vampire hunters. They operate under a strict code, obey the Pendragon queen, and are far from forthcoming with Connor about well anything, really. Especially the truth. Caught in a whirlwind of deadly ghouls, criminals, and creatures of the night, Connor doesn't know who to trust as he fights for the lives of himself and his friends. With stakes this high, Connor plays a deadly game of cat and mouse with both sides. Every vampire in the city wants to control him. If they can't, whether the evil undead or the mythical knights, safe to say that vampires and mercy don't mix.
