Vanishing Moon:

The Vanishing Moon Joseph Coulson, 2004-01-05 In The Vanishing Moon Joseph Coulson writes with insight and beauty about the American working class about the strength and strain of family bonds and about tragic incidents that haunt the human psyche over a lifetime Set in Cleveland and Detroit the novel chronicles two generations of the Tollman family opening at the start of the Great Depression and moving forward through five decades to the Vietnam War The first narrator Stephen Tollman looks back on his early adventures with his older brother as both boys try to shield their siblings from the confusion and vulnerability of financial ruin Later as World War II approaches Katherine Lennox musician and political activist offers an outsider's view of the Tollmans mesmerizing both Stephen and his brother with her energy and ambition James Tollman comes of age in the 1960s and as the youngest son in the family's second generation he strives to understand his father and mother amidst a summer of assassinations and civil unrest Stephen returns to finish the story struggling to hold his own against the currents of memory and abandoned dreams Told with the compression and intensity of a poem The Vanishing Moon is a novel of desire unyielding necessity and the people and places that inevitably disappear from our lives

Space, Place and Religious Landscapes Darrelyn Gunzburg, Bernadette Brady, 2020-10-01 Exploring sacred mountains around the world this book examines whether bonding and reverence to a mountain is intrinsic to the mountain constructed by people or a mutual encounter Chapters explore mountains in England Scotland Wales Italy Ireland the Himalaya Japan Greece USA Asia and South America and embrace the union of sky landscape and people to examine the religious dynamics between human and non human entities This book takes as its starting point the fact that mountains physically mediate between land and sky and act as metaphors for bridges from one realm to another recognising that mountains are relational and that landscapes form personal and group cosmologies The book fuses ideas of space place and material religion with cultural environmentalism and takes an interconnected approach to material religious landscapes In this way it fills the gap between lived religious traditions personal reflection phenomenology historical context environmental philosophy myths and performativity In defining material religion as active engagement with mountain forming and humanshaping landscapes the research and ideas presented here provide theories that are widely applicable to other forms of material religion
