The Semantic Web Michael C. Daconta, Leo J. Obrst, Kevin T. Smith, 2003-05-30 The Semantic Web is an extension of the current Web in which information is given well defined meaning better enabling computers and people to work in cooperation Tim Berners Lee Scientific American May 2001 This authoritative guide shows how the Semantic Web works technically and how businesses can utilize it to gain a competitive advantage Explains what taxonomies and ontologies are as well as their importance in constructing the Semantic Web Companion Web site includes further updates as the framework develops and links to related sites

Social Networks and the Semantic Web Peter Mika, 2007-10-23 Science is like a tree contrary to popular belief both trees and science grow at their edges not at their core For science this means that most of the fruitful and exciting developments are not happening at the core of established elds but are instead happening at the boundaries between such elds This has been particularly true for Computer Science The most interesting database developments don't happen inside the Database community but rather where databases hit Biology Similarly the most interesting developments in Artificial Intelligence in recent years have happened where AI met the Web Theyoung eldofSemanticWebresearchhasbeenoneoftheresultsofanumber of different sub elds of Computer Science being exposed to the challenges of the Web databases computational linguistics knowledge representation knowled based systems and service oriented computing are just some of the sub elds that are all making contributions to the Semantic Web vision namely a Web that consists not only of linksbetween web pagesfull of picturesand text but of a Semantic Web that consists of links between computer interpretable data Such a Semantic Web would make it possible to query and reason over integrated data sets consisting of separate pieces of information that were never intended to be linked together but that can nevertheless be fruitfully combined and integrated sometimes even by a third party who neither wrote nor owns any of the original pieces of data just as is possible with web pages on the current Web

Uncertain Spatiotemporal Data Management for the Semantic Web Bai, Luyi, Zhu, Lin, 2024-03-01 In the world of data management one of the most formidable challenges faced by academic scholars is the effective handling of spatiotemporal data within the semantic web. As our world continues to change dynamically with time, nearly every aspect of our lives from environmental monitoring to urban planning and beyond is intrinsically linked to time and space. This synergy has given rise to an avalanche of spatiotemporal data, and the pressing question is how to manage and query this voluminous information effectively. The existing approaches often fall short in addressing the intricacies and uncertainties that come with spatiotemporal data, leaving scholars struggling to unlock its full potential. Uncertain Spatiotemporal Data Management for the Semantic Web is the definitive solution to the challenges faced by academic scholars in the realm of spatiotemporal data. This book offers a visionary approach to an all-encompassing guide in modeling and querying spatiotemporal data using innovative technologies like XML and RDF. Through a meticulously crafted set of chapters, this book sheds light on the nuances of spatiotemporal data and also provides practical solutions that empower scholars to navigate the complexities of this domain effectively.

Building Trustworthy Semantic Webs Bhavani Thuraisingham, 2007-12-05 Semantic Webs promise to revolutionize the way computers find and integrate data over the internet. They will allow Web agents to share and reuse data across applications, enterprises, and community boundaries. However, this improved accessibility poses a greater threat of unauthorized access, which could lead to the malicious corruption of information.

Multimedia Content and the Semantic Web Giorgos Stamou, Stefanos Kollias, 2005-06-24 The emerging idea of the semantic web is based on the maximum automation of the complete knowledge lifecycle processes: knowledge representation, acquisition, adaptation, reasoning, sharing, and use. Text-based browsers involve a costly information retrieval process; descriptions are inherently subjective, and usage is often confined to the specific application domain for which the descriptions were created. Automatic extracted audiovisual features are in general more objective, domain-independent, and can be native to the audiovisual content. This book seeks to draw together in one concise volume the findings of leading researchers from around the globe. The focus in particular is on the MPEG 7 and MPEG 21 standards that seek to consolidate and render effective the infrastructure for the delivery and management of multimedia content. Provides thorough coverage of all relevant topics, including structure identification in audiovisual documents, object-based video indexing, multimedia indexing and retrieval using natural language, speech, and image processing methods. Contains detailed advice on ontology representation and querying for realizing semantics-driven applications. Includes cutting-edge information on multimedia content description in MPEG 7 and MPEG 21. Illustrates all theory with real-world case studies gleaned from state-of-the-art worldwide research. The contributors are pioneers in the fields of multimedia analysis and knowledge technologies. This unified, comprehensive, up-to-date resource will appeal to integrators, systems suppliers, managers, and consultants in the area of knowledge management and information retrieval, particularly those concerned with the automation of the semantic web. The detailed theory-based practical advice is also essential reading for postgraduates and researchers in these fields.

Visualizing the

Semantic Web Vladimir Geroimenko, Chaomei Chen, 2006-07-01 The Semantic Web is a vision that has sparked a wide ranging enthusiasm for a new generation of the Web The Semantic Web is happening The central idea of that vision is to make the Web more understandable to computer programs so that people can make more use of this gigantic asset The use of metadata data about data can clearly indicate the meaning of data on the Web so as to provide computers enough information to handle such data On the future Web many additional layers will be required if we want computer programs to handle the semantics the meaning of data properly without human intervention Such layers should deal with the hierarchical relationships between meanings their similarities and differences logical rules for making new inferences from the existing data and metadata and so on Dozens of new technologies have emerged recently to implement these ideas XML eXtensible Markup Language forms the foundation of the future Web RDF Resource Description Framework OWL Web Ontology Language and many other technologies help to erect a multistory building of the Semantic Web layer by layer by adding new features and new types of metadata According to Tim Berners Lee the inventor of the current Web and the Semantic Web it may take up to ten years to complete the building The new Web will be much more complex than the current one and will contain enormous amounts of metadata as well as data
