area testing the loyalties of Bartow County soldiers serving in the Army of Tennessee and elsewhere As the home front collapsed they had to decide if they should remain in the army and fight or return home to protect their families and property Locals hardly knew whom to trust as Unionists and Confederates from both home and afar engaged in guerilla warfare stole resources from citizens and made the war a confusing trap rather than a struggle for an emergent nation Drawing on the primary source record of newspapers letters diaries and official documents from the county H bert compellingly works personalized vignettes into a scholarly study of developments from the advent of war through Reconstruction and the decades following The Long Civil War in the North Georgia Mountains solidifies recent scholarship about the war in southern Appalachia and opens a window into a community deeply divided by civil war KEITH S H BERT assistant professor of history at Auburn University was formerly state historian at the Georgia Department of Natural Resources Historic Preservation Division His writing has appeared in The Georgia Historical Quarterly and Reconstructing Appalachia The Civil War s Aftermath Words on Cassette, 2002 R R Bowker Publishing,2002 Books Out Loud ,2004 The Evolution of International Arbitration Alec Stone Sweet,Florian Grisel,2017-02-10 The development of international arbitration as an autonomous legal order comprises one of the most remarkable stories of institution building at the global level over the past century Today transnational firms and states settle their most important commercial and investment disputes not in courts but in arbitral centres a tightly networked set of organizations that compete with one another for docket resources and influence In this book Alec Stone Sweet and Florian Grisel show that international arbitration has undergone a self sustaining process of institutional evolution that has steadily enhanced arbitral authority This judicialization process was sustained by the explosion of trade and investment which generated a steady stream of high stakes disputes and the efforts of elite arbitrators and the major centres to construct arbitration as a viable substitute for litigation in domestic courts For their part state officials as legislators and treaty makers and national judges as enforcers of arbitral awards have not just adapted to the expansion of arbitration they have heavily invested in it extending the arbitral order s reach and effectiveness Arbitration s very success has nonetheless raised serious questions about its legitimacy as a mode of transnational governance The book provides a clear causal theory of judicialization original data collection and analysis and a broad relatively non technical overview of the evolution of the arbitral order Each chapter compares international commercial and investor state arbitration across clearly specified measures of judicialization and governance Topics include the evolution of procedures the development of precedent and the demand for appeal balancing in the public interest legitimacy debates and proposals for systemic reform This book is a timely assessment of how arbitration has risen to become a key component of international economic law and why its future is far from settled Michigan Roads and Pavements ,1926 Bowker's Law Books and Serials in Print ,1984 Integrity of Department of Defense Acquisition System and Its Impact on U.S. National Security: Hearings before the full committee and the Acquisition Policy Panel United States.
