Turner The Life And Masterworks:

The Life and Masterworks of J.M.W. Turner Eric Shanes, 2021-04-06 Turner has some golden visions glorious and beautiful they are only visions but still they are art and one could live and die with such pictures John Constable 1828 J M W Turner is the only man who has ever given an entire transcript of the whole system of nature and is in this point of view the only perfect landscape painter whom the world has ever seen We have had living with us and painting for us the greatest painter of all time a man with whose supremacy of power no intellect of past ages can be put in comparison for a moment John Ruskin 1843 A group of French painters united by the same aesthetic tendencies struggling for ten years against convention and routine to bring art back to the scrupulously exact observation of nature applying themselves with passion to the rendering of the reality of forms in movement as well as to the fugitive phenomenon of light cannot forget that it has been preceded in this path by a great master of the English School the illustrious Turner Excerpt from a letter signed by Eugène Boudin Edgar Degas Claude Monet Camille Pissarro Auguste Renoir Alfred Sisley Mary Cassatt Berthe Morisot and other artists in 1882 1883 Turner the greatest creator of mystery in all art Claude Debussy 1908 The following was written of the first edition of this book Eric Shanes's Turner offers as we should expect from the editor of Turner Studies an unusually rich and stimulating read incorporating as it does the results of much recent research Dr John Gage in The Burlington Magazine

The Life and Masterworks of J.M.W. Turner Eric Shanes, 2023-12-28 At fifteen Turner was already exhibiting View of Lambeth He soon acquired the reputation of an immensely clever watercolourist A disciple of Girtin and Cozens he showed in his choice and presentation of theme a picturesque imagination which seemed to mark him out for a brilliant career as an illustrator He travelled first in his native land and then on several occasions in France the Rhine Valley Switzerland and Italy He soon began to look beyond illustration However even in works in which we are tempted to see only picturesque imagination there appears his dominant and guiding ideal of lyric landscape His choice of a single master from the past is an eloquent witness for he studied profoundly such canvases of Claude as he could find in England copying and imitating them with a marvellous degree of perfection His cult for the great painter never failed He desired his Sun Rising through Vapour and Dido Building Carthage to be placed in the National Gallery side by side with two of Claude's masterpieces And there we may still see them and judge how legitimate was this proud and splendid homage It was only in 1819 that Turner went to Italy to go again in 1829 and 1840 Certainly Turner experienced emotions and found subjects for reverie which he later translated in terms of his own genius into symphonies of light and colour Ardour is tempered with melancholy as shadow strives with light Melancholy even as it appears in the enigmatic and profound creation of Albrecht Dürer finds no home in Turner's protean fairyland what place could it have in a cosmic dream Humanity does not appear there except perhaps as stage characters at whom we hardly glance Turner's pictures fascinate us and yet we think of nothing precise nothing human only unforgettable colours and phantoms that lay hold on our imaginations Humanity really only inspires him when linked

John Ruskin, J.M.W. Turner and the Art of Water Carmen Casaliggi, 2022-12-20 This book assesses Ruskin s and Turner s mutual interest in the theme of water with particular reference to The Harbours of England 1856 Ruskin s book on ships and marine art to which are appended Turner s 12 illustrations of the English ports By considering existing scholarly works on Ruskin and Turner the book begins by demonstrating that the two despite their widely acknowledged relations have rarely been examined in conjunction It raises the question as to how the subject of water inspired the intellectual aesthetic philosophical and scientific climate of the nineteenth century both in Britain and abroad and acknowledges the significance of the relationship between Ruskin and Turner in the context of aquatic studies Ruskin s childhood fascination with water is examined in detail while the scientific and spiritual importance of the subject in Modern Painters and The Stones of Venice is also emphasised and read in parallel with The Harbours of England a detailed account of which is given referring to both text and illustrations Turner's role in Ruskin's understanding of specific water pictures is also reconstructed The book demonstrates that water is important as a multifaceted compendium of contemporary themes for tradition progress nationalism and patriotism find their iconography in its depiction Considering the literary and painterly implications of wateriness the text concludes with a reflection upon the significance of the study of water for Ruskin and Turner and for their age

J.M.W. Turner Eric Shanes, 2019-12-09 J M W Turner is without a doubt the greatest painter of landscapes and seascapes of all time His production was prodigious some 550 oil paintings more than 2 000 extremely detailed and refined watercolours and nearly 20 000 studies sketches and watercolour sketches He excelled in all forms of painting landscapes or seascapes elaborate historical representations or classical scenes miniature and watercolours of scenes of daily life on land and on sea destined to be reproduced in engravings The ensemble of Turner's artwork evokes a particularly rich and dramatic sensibility an interest for the complexities of life an unequalled approach of the size and scale of nature and a profound curiosity to discover what is under the surface that which the painter calls the intrinsic qualities and causes of things This curiosity leads Turner to explore the universal principles of architecture whether it is born from nature or by man's hand of light of meteorology as well as of the dynamic of waves He was a talented and extremely sophisticated colourist becoming one of the best in European painting and without a doubt the most skilled painter in conveying subtleties and nuances His works particularly his last works reflect his projection of an ideal world of colours forms and impressions
