Turtle Island Goodbye An Autobiography:

Turtle Island--goodbye Roger Riou,1976 Goodbye Christ? Peter Kerry Powers,2024-01-12 Despite the proliferation of criticism on the cultural work of the Harlem Renaissance over the course of the past two decades surprisingly few critics have focused on the ways in which religious contexts shaped the works of New Negro writers and artists during that time In Goodbye Christ Christianity Masculinity and the New Negro Renaissance Peter Kerry Powers fills this scholarly void exploring how the intersection of race religion and gender during the Harlem Renaissance impacted the rhetoric and imagination of prominent African American writers of the early twentieth century In order to best understand the secular academic thought that arose during the Harlem Renaissance period Powers argues readers must first understand the religious contexts from which it grew By illustrating how religion informed the New Negro movement and through his analysis of a range of texts Powers delineates the ways in which New Negro writers of the early twentieth century sought to loosen the grip of Christianity on the racial imagination thereby clearing a space for their own cultural work and for the development of a secular African American intelligentsia generally In addition to his examination of well known authors including W E B Du Bois Langston Hughes and Zora Neale Hurston Powers also offers an illuminating perspective on lesser known figures including Reverdy Ransom and Frederick Cullen In his exploration of the role of race and religion at the time Powers employs an intersectional approach to religion and gender and especially masculinity that sets the discussion on fertile new ground Goodbye Christ answers the call for a body of work that considers religion as a relevant precursor to the secular intelligentsia that grew during the Harlem Renaissance in the early 1900s By offering a complete look at the tensions that arose between churches and Harlem Renaissance writers and artists readers can gain a better understanding of the work that Harlem Renaissance writers undertook during the early decades of the twentieth century Peter Kerry Powers is dean of the School of Humanities at Messiah College in Pennsylvania He is the author of Recalling Religions Resistance Memory and Cultural Revision in Ethnic Women s Literature The Listener ,1976-07 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books 1976 to 1982 British Library,1983 Bibliographic Guide to Latin American Studies ,1986 An Accidental Autobiography Gregory Corso,2003 He left or was left by a number of girlfriends and he fathered five children along the way He was apt to raise a bit of a ruckus at poetry readings and other public events No one could be sure what he might do next except that he would write poetry and get published and that it would be widely read The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1968 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1976 Golden Dreams Kevin Starr,2011-09-09 A narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose Kevin Starr s acclaimed multi volume Americans and the California Dream is an unparalleled work of cultural history In this new volume Starr covers the crucial postwar period 1950 to 1963 when the California we know today first burst into prominence In a powerful blend of telling events colorful personalities and insightful analyses he brilliantly illuminates the dominant economic
