

FOLIO

A blank leaf (typically the same material as the text leaves) at the beginning and end of the text that protects the text from damage. A flyleaf can be connected (called connected) to a text page, or be conjoint with the next leaves when an incunabulum is present. Flyleaves often carry rubrics and inscriptions that sometimes relate to the manuscript's provenance.

FOLIO

A leaf of a codex, one half of a textblock. The front and back of a folio are referred to as the recto and verso, respectively. The numbering of leaves, as opposed to pages, is termed folios and is commonly found in manuscripts. "Folio" and "folios" are often abbreviated as f. and ff. The term can also be used to denote a large volume size.

FORE EDGE

The edge of a book opposite the text. The fore edge sometimes carries decorative rubrics, might be decorated with concentric or painting, and can bear an inscribed title (especially if once shelved horizontally). Fore edges of textbooks might have one or more clasp and catch mechanisms or another means to help keep the manuscript closed and protected. See also strap and pin.

FRAME RULING

rule, that provides a frame to contain the text without a series of horizontal lines to guide each line of writing. See also text-line-rule.

FRIEZE

Ornament featuring a repeated rectilinear geometric pattern.

FULL PRINTED-ILLUSTRATION

An illustration that has been rendered throughout in recto's rather than wholly or partly in line or size, with some manuscript forming an element of the image (see outline drawing and textile drawing).

FURNISHING: NO METAL FURNISHING

GALLINOT: SEE ONE GALL.

GATHERING

A booklet (of several folded textblocks) in a codex. Gatherings are frequently referred to as pages, properly speaking, a term for gatherings of four folios (= 8 leaves/16 pages), the most common sort of gathering in medieval books. The numbering of gatherings, which began in late antiquity, consists of numbers written on a gathering (usually on its final verso) to facilitate arrangement during binding.

Leaf signatures are numbers and/or letters written in a gathering to facilitate the arrangement of its internal components. These were at first at the, but beginning around 1400 they might follow a system; for example, ai-ai could be written on the first four leaves of the first gathering, bi-bi on the first four leaves of the second gathering, and so on.

GATHERING

A method of edge treatment in which a groove impresses heated lead or roll marks into the usually gilded text, rule, and some text of a bound book. Gilded edges create a rich, decorative effect to a book's edges when closed.

GERMANS

Fore edge, Bible leaves in the Holy Bible, Bologna, ca. 1400. In a size one leaf (1 x 17 in.). Los Angeles, UCLA, Ms. 92.1.100.1.17

The gilded edge of this Bible has been decorated with an elaborate gilded foliate design, made in relief by impressing a pattern into the tightly compressed edges of the closed book.

GERMANIC

Germanic-speaking peoples wrote in what had been the western Roman Empire, forming a number of successor states (such as Francia, Anglo-Saxon England, Visigothic Spain, and Ostrogothic and Lombardic Italy). They brought with them a vigorous art style, characterized by monochromatic ornament and interlaced patterns. They made a major contribution to the development of minuscule and pre-Carolingian art and fostered regional developments in script.

GESSO

A thick, water-based printing material, typically consisting of gypsum (calcium sulfate), plaster, or chalk mixed with a glue. Gesso is used in manuscript illumination as a substrate for the application of metal leaf, since gesso forms a raised surface ideal for manuscript. Methods of gesso-preparation varied. See also manuscript and relief.

GILDING

The application of metal leaf (typically gold or silver) to a surface. In medieval manuscript illumination, gold in powdered form was applied with a brush or pen for use in linear details and in concentric, or it was applied in leaf form. The metal leaf could be laid down on an area in which a groove, texture such as clasp or gum had been applied (called manuscript gilding). When laid on a raised white ground or other colored
