Via Representation Sources And Semblance:

The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1990 Architecture Series: Bibliography ,1988 The Palladian Landscape: Geographical Change and Its Cultural Representations in Sixteenth-Century Italy , While the themes sources and materials of The Palladian Landscape span a range of disciplinary interests from art and architectural studies economic social and environmental history to philosophy and Renaissance humanism Denis Cosgrove seeks to provide a geographical interpretation of a region of northern Italy in the specific period of the late Renaissance However he goes much further using the thoughts designs and commissions of the architect Palladio as the central thread to weave a picture of a place Venice that is in a period of crisis as it seeks to survive a transition from a maritime power hinterland to a new land based terraferma As a cultural geographer he seeks to understand how groups come to terms with and transform their material environments and he therefore pays special attention to the intellectual forces and spiritual sensibilities that empower those groups as well as to the economic social and environmental constraints with which they have to contend Although these two broad realms of human experience are often studied separately Cosgrove brings them together in this study He uses the leitmotif of architecture and specifically the work of Andrea Palladio to describe a localized transformation of the natural world into a landscape of expression of cultural meaning Beyond this leitmotif the work adopts an essay structure in which each chapter stands somewhat separately as a spatial narrative It moves from the imperial city of Venice into its Italian territories and thence from city to rural landscape to specific country estates Having described localized transformations of urban and rural landscapes Cosgrove then expands the scale again to consider hydrological engineering in the Venetian territories and some of the techniques involved in surveying and mapping the landscape These return the reader to the more global view of a Venetian mentalit coming to terms with a changing geographical and historical world map The Administration of Health Systems Martin Harrison,2017-07-05 In the late 1960s American society entered a period of rapidly accelerating social change Certainty that U S vast scientific and technical capability would be able to find solutions to all problems began to turn to concern as organizational efforts were unable to keep pace with new developments in a variety of areas The health field with its focus on the well being of individuals felt the impact of these changes particularly strongly Medicines became more focused on isolated health practices as the patient s needs were attended to within groups of unrelated biological systems The emerging thought represented in this collection pushes for the perception of health as a right rather than as something to be earned It argues that deprivation of life saving and life fulfilling opportunities to any populations should not be tolerated The editors also demand more awareness of the implications of isolated health activities and make the case for a comprehensive total health care system Health is no longer just a biological function quality of life is also a concern First published in 1971 by administrators of health agencies teachers and health personnel this work presents perspectives on problems and interpretations of forces and issues that are of continuing importance to health administrators The emphasis on the need to focus on the whole patient rather than just their illness and on providing them with a good life not just a disease free one is still as valid today as it was when this volume was initially published

Media Depictions of Brides, Wives, and Mothers Alena Amato Ruggiero, 2012-09-27 Media Depictions of Brides Wives and Mothers edited by Alena Amato Ruggiero explores how television film the internet and other media variously perpetuate gender stereotypes The contributors to this volume bring a variety of feminist rhetorical and media criticism approaches from across the communication discipline to their analyses of how television film news coverage and the Internet shape our expectations of the performance of women s identities This collection includes studies of Bridezillas Jon Kate Plus 8 Sex and the City Sarah Palin Nancy Pelosi The Devil Wears Prada Practical Magic momtini blogs and Mad Men fan websites Readers will learn to apply the insights from each chapter to their own sets of myths stereotypes and assumptions about gendered roles and to recognize the possibilities for both liberation and domination when women s practices of marrying mating and mothering are represented and misrepresented in the media This collection is an essential contribution to media studies and criticism of gender stereotypes in contemporary culture Read the author s recent interview with Literary Ashland You can also visit the author s website here Human Creation Between Reality and Illusion Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2006-06-30 Identifying quickly illusion with deception we tend to oppose it to the reality of life However investigating in this collection of essays illusion s functions in the Arts which thrives upon illusion and yet maintains its existential roots and meaningfulness in the real we might wonder about the nature of reality itself Does not illusion open the seeming confines of factual reality into horizons of imagination which transform it Does it not like art belong essentially to the makeup of human reality Papers by Lanfranco Aceti John Baldacchino Maria Avelina Cecilia Lafuente Jo Ann Circosta Madalina Diaconu Jennifer Anna Gosetti Ferencei Brian Grassom Marguerite Harris Andrew E Hershberger James Carlton Hughes Lawrence Kimmel Jung In Kwon Ruth Ronen Scott A Sherer Joanne Snow Smith Max Statkiewicz Patricia Trutty Coohill Daniel Unger James Werner Quill & Quire ,1989 The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism ,1958 American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Record ,1908 Image and Environment David Stea, 2017-07-12 Cognitive mapping is a construct that encompasses those processes that enable people to acquire code store recall and manipulate information about the nature of their spatial environment It refers to the attributes and relative locations of people and objects in the environment and is an essential component in the adaptive process of spatial decision making such as finding a safe and quick route to from work locating potential sites for a new house or business and deciding where to travel on a vacation trip Cognitive processes are not constant but undergo change with age or development and use or learning Image and Environment now in paperback is a pioneer study It brings a new academic discipline to a wide audience The volume is divided into six sections which represent a comprehensive breakdown of cognitive mapping studies Theory Cognitive Representations Spatial Preferences The Development of Spatial Cognition Geographical and Spatial Orientation and Cognitive Distance Contributors include Edward Tolman James Blaut Stephen
