Victorian Factory:

Factories and Workshops Great Britain. HM Factory Inspectorate,1885 A Victorian Factory Lyn Gash,Sheila Watson,1993 Describes the working conditions in a Victorian factory and the progress made in workers conditions by law changes and the formation of unions Suggested level primary Winners and Losers Stuart Macintyre,2020-07-29 What is a fair wage Is there a right to work Is there a right to shelter or to good health What are the entitlements of those who cannot work Can opportunities be equal For women For Aborigines For more than a century Australians have addressed expectations of social justice to their governments and have had to live with the consequences This book looks at how changing circumstances have generated changing popular aspirations and how these in turn have been translated into public policy It argues that social justice has no single meaning and is in fact the site of conflicting and divergent endeavours Precisely for this reason it has a special relevance for the age of consensus The first part of this book uses these shifting interpretations of social justice as a lodestar to chart a new course through the history of this country The second part shows how it operates today as a focus of debate in areas ranging from education to Aboriginal land rights The book therefore offers a new perspective on the past and a trenchant analysis of the present It draws together a wide range of material and presents it by means of case studies that assume no specialist knowledge It will appeal to students of Australian history public policy and social welfare and it is addressed to all readers with an interest in the future of their country

Consuming Culture in the Long Nineteenth Century Tamara S. Wagner,Narin Hassan,2010-01-01 Consuming Culture in the Long Nineteenth Century brings together detailed analyses of the cultural myths or fictions of consumption that have shaped discourse on consumer practices from the eighteenth century onward The chapters provide an excitingly diverse range of perspectives including musicology philosophy history art history and cultural and post colonial studies as well as the study of literature in English French and German The broad scope of this collection will engage audiences both inside and outside academia interested in the politics of food and consumption in eighteenth and nineteenth century culture Book jacket
