The Fiction of Geopolitics Christopher Lloyd GoGwilt, 2000 Charting the contours of the long turn of the century from 1860 to 1940 and studying a range of writers genres and disciplines this book moves back and forth from Victorian to modernist fields of study to show how the 19th century European hypothesis of culture haunts the 20th century fiction of geopolitics The Nation, 1912 Rewriting/Reprising in Literature Claude Maisonnat, Josiane Paccaud-Huguet, Annie Ramel, 2009-10-02 This volume includes a series of 17 selected essays preceded by a methodological introduction whose purpose is to offer a fresh outlook on the question of rewriting reprising The argument taking for granted the phenomenon of intertextuality develops along three main axes the first one reconsiders the already debated issue of authority on post structuralist premises arguing that the origin of a text is untraceable The second looks at a phenomenon often associated with reprising especially in a post colonial context trauma whether individual or historical in relation to creative repetition The third axis offers a re reading of the question of voice introducing the notion of the textual voice understood as that part of the enunciative act over which the author has no control When writers make of reprising a deliberate practise we are tempted to believe that their position between homage and pillage presupposes the existence of a traceable source of the literary Word We must however face the problematic nature of enunciation the void on which is founded Which leads us to the proposition that the act of reprising is a creation ex nihilo a certain mode of organisation around that void Besides in a century of major man made traumas whose effect was the tearing up of social fabrics reprising will assume a more complex significance the symptomatic repetitive stitching of what is being constantly ripped up More Adventures with Britannia William Roger Louis, 1998 Includes essays on Henry James Rudyard Kipling Leonard and Virginia Woolf D H Lawrence George Orwell 1984 Mountbatten Winston Churchill among others Poems of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1901 The Outlook, 1922 A Gallery Philip Guedalla, 1924 The New Statesman, 1920 The Adelphi, 1927 The Good Comp J.
