Well Dressed Explorer:

The Well Dressed Explorer Thea Astley, 2021 Pompous vain and a self professed charmer George Brewster moves from one unfulfilling journalism job to the next one empty relationship to another his faithful wife and daughter ever the afterthought The Well Dressed Explorer is the story of a man of his time but as a story of toxic workplaces and an Australia where comfort and self interest breed men like George it might well feel familiar to a new generation of readers Described as a formidable and enduring novel by the American magazine Publishers Weekly on its original publication in 1962 The Well Dressed Explorer won the Miles Franklin Literary Award at same year Thea Astley AO 1925 2004 went on to win the Miles Franklin Literary Award three more times for the novels The Slow Natives 1965 The Acolyte 1972 which is also part of the Untapped Collection and Drylands 1999 Other awards for her work include The Age Book of the Year the New South Wales Premier s Literary Award s Christina Stead Prize for Fiction and the Queensland Premier s Literary Award for Best Fiction Book She also received multiple personal awards including in 1989 Patrick White Award and in 2002 a New South Wales Premier s Special Award for a lifetime s achievement in literature

Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don t people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women s autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women s spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women s spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women s religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point

Thea Astley Karen Lamb, 2015-04-01 This is the first biography of one of Australia s most beloved novelists Thea Astley 1925 2004 Over a 50 year writing career Astley published more than a dozen novels and short story collections including The Acolyte Drylands and The Slow Natives and was the first person to win multiple Miles Franklin Awards With many of her works published internationally Astley was a trailblazer for women writers In her personal life she was renowned for her dry wit eccentricity and compassion Karen Lamb has drawn on an unparalleled range of interviews and correspondence to create a detailed picture of Thea the woman as well as Astley the writer She has sought to understand Astley s private world and how that shaped the distinctive body of work that is Thea Astley s literary legacy
