The Communicative Syllabus Evolution Design And Implementation:

The Communicative Syllabus Janice Yalden,1983 The Communicative Syllabus Janice Yalden,1987 Language Curriculum Design and Socialisation Peter Mikan,2012-11-23 This book applies social theory to curriculum design and sets out a program for language curriculum renewal for the 21st century It includes many examples of text based curricula and describes a plan for curriculum renewal based on texts as the unit of analysis for planning for teaching and for assessment Underpinned by Halliday s semiotic theory of language the book combines the theory of language as a resource for meaning making with learning language as learning to mean The curriculum design constructs curriculum around social practices and their texts rather than presenting language as grammatical and lexical objects This work will provide teachers teacher educators and curriculum planners with a curriculum model for teaching children and adults in different contexts from preschool to adult education as well as serving as a practical guide for students Reflections on Task-Based Language Teaching Rod Ellis,2018-06-18 Task based language teaching is now a well established pedagogic approach but problematic issues remain such as whether it is appropriate for all learners and in all instructional contexts This book draws on the author s experience of working with teachers together with his knowledge of relevant research and theory to examine the key issues It proposes flexible ways in which tasks can be designed and implemented in the language classroom to address the problems that teachers often face with task based language teaching It will appeal to researchers and teachers who are interested in task based language teaching and the practical and theoretical issues involved It will also be of interest to students and researchers working in the areas of applied linguistics TESOL and second language acquisition

Language and Discrimination Celia Roberts, 2014-09-25 Language and Discrimination provides a unique and authoritative study of the linguistic dimension of racial discrimination Based upon extensive work carried out over many years by the Industrial Language Training Service in the U K this illuminating analysis argues that a real understanding of how language functions as a means of indirect racial discrimination must be founded on an expanded view of language which recognises the inseparability of language culture and meaning After initially introducing the subject matter of the book and providing an overview of discrimination and language learning the authors examine the relationship between theory and practice in four main areas theories of interaction and their application ethnographic and linguistic analysis of workplace settings training in communication for white professionals and language training for adult bilingual workers and job seekers Detailed case studies illustrate how theory can be turned into practice if appropriate information research development and training and co ordinated in an integrated response to issues of multi ethnic communication discrimination and social justice
