Understanding Graham Greene:

Understanding Graham Greene Robert Henry Miller, 1990 The main aim of this work is to provide a comprehensive guide to the writings of Graham Greene who is described as one of England's most distinguished living authors It is particularly designed for those unfamiliar with his work

Graham Greene Robert H. Miller, 2009-11-13 English novelist short story writer playwright and journalist Graham Greene was one of the most widely read novelists of the 20th century a superb storyteller Adventure and suspense are constant elements in his novels and many of his books have been made into successful films Although Greene was nominated several times as a candidate for the Nobel Prize for Literature he never received the award Graham Greene is a descriptive catalog of first editions of works by Greene which are currently held in the collection of the University of Louisville Arranged chronologically by title Robert H Miller also includes letters radio scripts pamphlets and subsequent editions of importance and scarcity

Understanding John Le Carré John L. Cobbs, 1998 John Cobbs establishes that contemporary English novelist John le Carré's fiction transcends the genre of espionage and that le Carré is preeminently a social commentator who writes novels of manners Cobbs analyzes each of le Carré's novels and offers a biographical sketch describing le Carré's often overlooked academic success and reputation as a once member of British Intelligence

Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix, 2011-11-03 This study explores how British identity has been explored and renegotiated by contemporary writers It starts by examining the new emphasis on space and place that has emerged in recent cultural analysis and shows how this spatial emphasis informs different literary texts Having first analysed a series of novels that draw an implicit parallel between the end of the British Empire and the break up of the unitary British state the study explores how contemporary writing in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales contributes to a sense of nationhood in those places and so contributes to the break up of Britain symbolically Dix argues that the break up of Britain is not limited to political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales It is also an imaginary process that can be found occurring on a number of other conceptual coordinates Feminism class regional identities and ethnic communities are all terrains on which different writers carry out a fictional questioning of received notions of Britishness and so contribute in different ways to the break up of Britain

Conversations with Graham Greene Graham Greene, 1992 This collection of seventeen interviews covers fifty years Here the eminent author of The Power and the Glory The Third Man and The Heart of the Matter speaks of himself his life and his works Though reluctant to be interviewed especially by an academic or journalist he did not know Greene was more at ease in an interview with a personal friend who he felt would be less likely to misunderstand or misquote him Yet even his good friend V S Pritchett spent considerable time trying to pin him down for his 1978 interview When he finally did arrange an interview Pritchett tells that Greene's flat conspiratorial laughing voice of itself makes him the best company I've known in the last forty years Other interviewers included here are V S Naipaul and Penelope Gilliatt shared Pritchett's opinion but many found that he avoided idle conversation for fear that his words would be misconstrued Greene's anxiety was not without foundation In an interview with Michael Menshaw Greene explained It's got so I hate to say who I am or what I believe A few years ago I told an interviewer I'm a gnostic The next day's newspaper announced that I had become an agnostic After such incidents Greene turned to the anecdote relating an experience with Fidel Castro or with Papa Doc Duvalier to communicate in interviews with strangers Nevertheless in all the interviews Greene granted over the years the reader hears very clearly the voice of a man whose conversation is as painfully honest and unpretentious as is his written prose The interviews here are divided chronologically into four periods loosely related to his subject matter or to his reputation at the time of the interview Thus the reader sees the development of the writer from a callow but gifted young man into one of the foremost men of letters in the English speaking world

Exploring Catholic Literature Mary R. Reichardt, 2003-09-27 Designed for students of all ages Exploring Catholic Literature A Companion and Resource Guide provides an engaging and succinct introduction to twelve recognized masterpieces of Catholic literature from Augustine's 4th century conversion narrative The Confessions to the recent poetry of Denise Levertov collected in The Stream and the Sapphire Each chapter contains a brief biography of the author an extended critical essay highlighting the work's Catholic and literary aspects suggestions for further reading and study and questions for discussion

Graham Greene Richard Greene, 2011-04-20 There have been a number of Graham Greene biographies but none has captured his voice his loves hates family and friends intimate and writerly or his deep understanding of the world like this astonishing collection of letters Graham Greene is one of the few modern novelists who can be called great In the course of his long and eventful life 1904-1991 he wrote tens of thousands of letters to family friends writers publishers and others involved in his various interests and causes A Life in Letters presents a fresh and engrossing account of his life career and mind in his own words Meticulously chosen and engagingly annotated this selection of letters many of them seen here for the first time gives an entirely new perspective on a life that combined literary achievement political action espionage exotic travel and romantic entanglement In several letters the individual's events or places described provide the inspiration for characters episodes or locations found in his later fiction The correspondence describes his travels in Mexico Africa Malaya Vietnam Haiti Cuba Sierra Leone Liberia and other trouble spots where he observed the struggles of victims and victors with a compassionate and truthful eye The volume includes a vast number of unpublished letters to authors Evelyn Waugh Auberon Waugh Anthony Powell Edith Sitwell R K Narayan and Muriel Spark and to other more notorious individuals such as the double agent Kim Philby Some of these letters dispute previous assessments of his character such as his alleged anti-Semitism or obscenity and he emerges as a man of deep integrity decency and courage Others reveal the agonies of his romantic life especially his relations with his wife Vivien Greene and with one of his mistresses Catherine Walston The letters can be poignant despairing amorous furious or amusing but the sheer range of experience contained in them will astound everyone who reads this book

Wandering through Guilt Paola Di Gennaro,2015-06-18 The first comprehensive study on the pattern of guilt and wandering in literature this book examines the relationship between the two complex concepts as they appear in twentieth century novels positing its methodological premises on archetypal criticism and both close and distant reading but also drawing on psychology anthropology mythology and religion This research deciphers a common paradigm and literary representation whose archetype within Western literature is found in the biblical figure of Cain while presenting a critical framework valid for boundary crossing comparative approaches From Graham Greene s The Power and the Glory and Malcolm Lowry s Under the Volcano to Wolfgang Koeppen s Death in Rome and oka Sh hei s Fires on the Plain this book is not merely a thematic study but an analysis of the literary phenomena that appear in those novels where the sense of guilt is controversially subjective or so collective as to be perceived as universal as is often the case with war and postwar literature Di Gennaro goes beyond the analysis of explicit rewritings of the story of Cain in order to uncover the monomyth through its rhetorical structures and mythical methods The wasteland with no religion the lost abandoned garden the classical and religiously corrupted city and the tropical cannibalistic island at war are the respective settings of these narratives where the issue is neither homelessness nor journeying but rather the desperate and futile movement toward self consciousness or self destruction After the Second World War much was silenced rather than left unsaid This study retraces those silent cries over history through the powerful literary marks of myths
