After the Crime Martin S. Greenberg,R. Barry Ruback,2012-12-06 Analyzing the findings of 20 studies involving more than 5 000 people this book explores the decision making process of the crime victim in the immediate aftermath of victimization Using a broad range of innovative research techniques the authors assess the effects of rape robbery burglary and theft on individuals from diverse nationalities and ethnic backgrounds This work will be of value to people who work directly with crime victims and to researchers who are interested in the process of decision making under stressful circumstances

Fundamental Principles of Law and Economics Alan Devlin,2014-10-17 This textbook places the relationship between law and economics in its international context explaining the fundamentals of this increasingly important area of teaching and research in an accessible and straightforward manner In presenting the subject Alan Devlin draws on the neoclassical tradition of economic analysis of law while also showcasing cutting edge developments such as the rise of behavioural economic theories of law Key features of this innovative book include case law directives regulations and statistics from EU UK and US jurisdictions are presented clearly and contextualised for law students showing how law and economics theory can be understood in practice succinct end of chapter summaries highlight the essential points in each chapter to focus student learning further reading is provided at the end of each chapter to guide independent research Making use of tables and diagrams throughout to facilitate understanding this text provides a comprehensive overview of law and economics that is ideal for those new to the subject and for use as a course text for law and economics modules

Survivor-Centred Justice Ingrid Roestenburg-Morgan,Tim Murithi,2025-02-04 This volume interrogates global perspectives and issues that constitute and characterize survivor centred justice exploring both conceptual and theoretical issues surrounding the definition of a survivor practical considerations of what constitutes a survivor centred approach to justice and available avenues of justice for survivors of mass atrocities In the first part of the book survivor centred justice is explored at the level of the International Criminal Court ICC The second part evaluates developments taking place at the local and domestic levels where traditional customary or local justice mechanisms find affinity with survivors in their quest for justice The third part focuses on advocacy based approaches being utilized specifically by non governmental organizations NGOs multilateral and regional institutions such as the United Nations and African Union in support of survivors In the final part of the book future prospects for survivors in the promotion of peacebuilding and atrocity prevention are discussed The discussions in this volume will be of particular value and importance to international and transitional justice scholars including legal and development practitioners interested in survivor centred approaches to mass atrocity crimes Most importantly it aims to be of value to survivors survivor communities and survivor centred networks

Product Liability Act Amendments United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation. Subcommittee for Consumers,1985      The Use of Victim Impact Statements in Sentencing for Sexual

Offences Rhiannon Davies, Lorana Bartels, 2021-03-17 Drawing on extensive research from Australia this book examines the experiences of sexual offence victims who submit a victim impact statement Victim impact statements are used in sentencing to outline the harm caused to victims There has been little research on the impact statement experiences of sexual offence victims This book fills this gap examining the perspectives of six adult female victims and 15 justice professionals in Australia This is supplemented by analysis of 100 sentencing remarks revealing how courts use such statements in practice This book examines victims experiences of preparing and submitting statements justice professionals experiences of working with victims to submit statements and the judicial use of impact statements in sentencing It identifies an overarching lack of clarity around the purpose of impact statements which affects the information that can be included and the way they can be used by the court It consequently explore issues associated with balancing the expressive and instrumental purposes of such statements and the challenges in communication between professionals and victims of crime The findings highlight several issues with the operation of impact statement regimes Based on these findings the book makes recommendations to clarify such regimes to improve communication between justice professionals and victims of crime and to enhance the therapeutic goals of such statements An accessible and compelling read this book is essential reading for all those engaged with victimology sentencing and sexual violence

At the Will of the Body Arthur W. Frank, 2002 In this deeply affecting memoir Arthur Frank explores the events of illness from within the transformation from person to patient the pain and the ceremony of recovery In poignant and clear prose he offers brilliant insights into the circumstances when our bodies emotions are pushed to the extreme Ultimately he examines what it means to be human Publisher

A Restorative Approach to Family Violence Anne Hayden, Loraine Gelsthorpe, Allison Morris, 2016-03-16 This volume provides an essential update on current thinking practice and research into the use of restorative justice in the area of family violence It contains contemporary empirical theoretical and practical perspectives on the use of restorative justice for intimate partner and family violence including sexual violence and elder abuse Whilst raising issues relating to the implications of reporting it provides a fresh look at victims issues as well as providing accounts of those who have participated in restorative justice processes and who have been victims of abusive relationships Contributions are included from a wide range of perspectives to provide a balanced approach that is not simply polemic or advocating Rather the book genuinely raises the issue for debate with the advantage of bringing into the open new research which has not been widely published previously Given its unique experience in the development of restorative justice the book includes empirical studies relating to New Zealand contextualized within the global situation by the inclusion of perspectives on practices in the UK Australia and North America This book will be key reading for people who work with violent offending of a family nature as well as for those who are interested in the study of family violence
