Victorian Illustration:

Reading Victorian Illustration, 1855-1875 Paul Goldman, 2016-04-01 In a reevaluation of that period in Victorian illustration known as The Sixties a distinguished group of international scholars consider the impact of illustration on the act of reading its capacity to reflect construct critique and challenge its audience s values its response to older graphic traditions and its assimilation of foreign influences While focused on the years 1855 to 1875 the essays take up issues related to the earlier part of the nineteenth century and look forward to subsequent developments in illustration The contributors examine significant figures such as Ford Madox Brown Frederick Sandys John Everett Millais George John Pinwell and Hablot Knight Browne in connection with the illustrated magazine the mid Victorian gift book and changing visual responses to the novels of Dickens Engaging with a number of theories and critical debates the collection offers a detailed and provocative analysis of the nature of illustration its production consumption and place within the broader contexts of mid Victorian culture

Nineteenth-century women illustrators and cartoonists Joanna Devereux, 2023-05-16 Nineteenth century women illustrators and cartoonists provides an in depth analysis of fifteen women illustrators of the later nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Jemima Blackburn Eleanor Vere Boyle Marianne North Amelia Francis Howard Gibbon Mary Ellen Edwards Edith Hume Alice Barber Stephens Florence and Adelaide Claxton Marie Duval Amy Sawyer Eleanor Fortescue Brickdale Pamela Colman Smith and Olive Allen Biller The chapters consider these women s illustrations in the areas of natural history periodicals and books as well as their cartoons and caricatures Using diverse critical approaches the volume brings to light the works and lives of these important women illustrators and challenges the hegemony of male illustrators and cartoonists in nineteenth century visual and print culture

Victorian Illustration Paul Goldman, 1996 In the major survey the author has selected 31 artists who have created some of the most important of the period

The Routledge Handbook to Nineteenth-Century British Periodicals and Newspapers Andrew King, Alexis Easley, John Morton, 2016-09-01 The 2017 winner of the Robert and Vineta Colby Scholarly Book Prize Providing a comprehensive interdisciplinary examination of scholarship on nineteenth century British periodicals this volume surveys the current state of research and offers researchers an in depth examination of contemporary methodologies The impact of digital media and archives on the field informs all discussions of the print archive Contributors illustrate their arguments with examples and contextualize their topics within broader areas of study while also reflecting on how the study of periodicals may evolve in the future The Handbook will serve as a valuable resource for scholars and students of nineteenth century culture who are interested in issues of cultural formation transformation and transmission in a developing industrial and globalizing age as well as those whose research focuses on the bibliographical and the micro case study In addition to rendering a comprehensive review and critique of current research on nineteenth century British periodicals the Handbook suggests new avenues for research in the twenty first century This volume s 30 chapters deal with practically every aspect of periodical research and with the specific topics and audiences the 19th century periodical press addressed It also covers matters such as digitization that did not exist or were in early development a generation ago In addition to the essays readers will find 50 illustrations 54 pages of bibliography and a chronology of the periodical press This book gives seemingly endless insights into the ways periodicals and newspapers influenced and reflected 19th century culture It not only makes readers aware of problems involved in interpreting the history of the press but also offers suggestions for ways of untangling them and points the direction for future research It will be a valuable resource for readers with interests in almost any aspect of 19th century Britain

Etten, 1928 THE ENGLISH ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE , 1897 The Lure of Illustration in the Nineteenth Century Laurel Brake, Marysa Demoor, 2009-01-15 This volume tackles the subject of illustration technically metaphorically and historically in nineteenth century periodicals displaying the ubiquity of the visual in the press the articles cover material illustration graphics and design and metaphorical use of images in the letterpress offering specific examples and theoretical approaches Bulletin of the Museum of Fine Arts Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, 1926 Reading Victorian Illustration, 1855-1875 Paul Goldman, 2016-04-01 In a reevaluation of that period in Victorian illustration known as The Sixties a distinguished group of international scholars consider the impact of illustration on the act of reading its capacity to reflect construct critique and challenge its audience s values its response to older graphic traditions and its assimilation of foreign influences While focused on the years 1855 to 1875 the essays take up issues related to the earlier part of the nineteenth century and look forward to subsequent developments in illustration The contributors examine significant figures such as Ford Madox Brown Frederick Sandys John Everett Millais George John Pinwell and Hablot Knight Browne in connection with the illustrated magazine the mid Victorian gift book and changing visual responses to the novels of Dickens Engaging with a number of theories and critical debates the collection offers a detailed and provocative analysis of the nature of illustration its production consumption and place within the broader contexts of mid Victorian culture British Wood-engraved Book Illustration, 1904-1940 Joanna Selborne, 1998 Twentieth century British wood engraved book illustration up to the beginning of the Second World War was among the most versatile and inventive of the graphic arts. In a climate of typographical renaissance various wood engravers made a significant impact on the appearance of the printed page transforming good books into works of art and influencing modern standards of book production. This book reveals the methods by which these pioneering artists broke with nineteenth century illustrative practices. The author surveys the subject in relation to the cultural and historical background and within the context of mainstream developments in the visual arts placing emphasis on the working relationship of illustrators with both private presses and commercial publishers. Detailed study of unpublished material including art school records publishers and print societies archives and artists correspondence throws new light on the work and practices of the more innovative wood engravers.
