Weird Pet Poems:

Weird Pet Poems, 1997 A collection of poems about unusual animal pets by such poets as Karla Kuskin Theodore Roethke May Swenson and others Peculiar Pets Kerry J Cramer, 2020-12 Whether dealing with a mob of rowdy kangaroos changing an octopus's diaper or selecting a choice specimen straight from your nose these quirky critters will have you debating the value of having a pet Even Noah who didn't know a thing about pets had to think twice about picking a proper pet Don't forget a pet owns you as much as you own it So make sure you know what you're getting into by reading this book cover to cover before you decide which peculiar pet to get The Power of Picture Books in Teaching Math and Science Lynn Columbia, 2017-05-12 This book's 50 plus lessons each based on a different picture book or story will help classroom teachers build a foundation for teaching math science and social studies concepts to their students Each lesson uses children's literature to make challenging abstract concepts relevant to children's lives inviting them to learn these concepts while responding to a story's illustrations theme characters and plot The lessons also demonstrate how teachers can use children's literature to meet national standards in math science and social studies Chapters 1 through 5 set the stage for using picture books discussing the effective imaginative integration of literature into the classroom Teachers will learn to create an environment that ensures that when children and books come together the experience is enjoyable and thought provoking Chapters 6 through 9 provide individual lessons by grade level with detailed activities based on specific books Rhymes & Reasons Michael F. Opitz, 2000 Rhymes Reasons is a smart up to date all in one guide to phonological awareness what it is what it isn't and the best practices for teaching it Critical Literacy/critical Teaching Cheryl Dozier, Peter H. Johnston, Rebecca Rogers, 2006 This book describes and documents an exciting new approach to educating literacy teachers The authors show how to help teachers develop their own critical literacy while also preparing them to accelerate the literacy learning of struggling readers The text takes readers inside a literacy lab in a high poverty urban elementary school reveals the instructional approach in action and provides many excellent examples of critically responsive teaching Featuring a synthesis of several fields of theory and research this book illustrates teacher preparation and development as personal and social transformation demonstrating that this process requires changing the ways teachers think about students language culture literacy learning and themselves as educators provides pedagogical tools including the history of the innovative literacy lab the context of the instructional interactions and the transition from a university based to a school based project and combines critical and accelerative literacy instruction showing how teachers can accelerate the slowest developing readers in their classrooms and also build a sense of engagement for students with the social world Gotcha Again! Kathleen A. Baxter, Marcia Agness Kochel, 2002-05-20 Pinpoint just the right books to get children excited about reading nonfiction titles With more than 350 nonfiction books most of which have been published in the past four years this guide makes it easy to find good reading material to use in your classroom at the library or at home In addition to suggestions for presenting books to students in irresistible ways hundreds of ready to use booktalks and a wealth of tips on booktalking make this title an invaluable and versatile resource Even an outline for a booktalk program and a bibliography for collection development purposes are included Great for educators librarians and parents Grades K 8

Children's Literature Diana Mitchell, Pamela Waterbury, Rose Casement, 2003 Children's Literature An Invitation to the World is written and organized in a manner that engages the readers and that will instill confidence in teachers when selecting and using literature in their teaching Readers are asked to take a world view of literature what it is how to recognize one's own how to recognize an author's and encouraged to see children's literature through a lens that includes people not like themselves The book tackles tough issues such as gender and racial bias and how they can be insidiously promoted in literature No other book on the market engages readers more than this one Rather than just presenting topics the book asks What can we learn from them In addition the first person narrative involves readers in the discussion rather than simply presenting content to them

Elementary and middle school teachers curriculum developers and anyone interested in children's literature
