

Unreached People

(not land masses!)

If the Great Commission is about people, why do we represent it with geographic maps?

Geographic maps show our perception of the world. Maps are produced and used like a priority, where geographic size and regions with high population (the West and Asia) are over-represented, and the dense population of single but large countries (the India and China) are under-represented. The world map is a cartogram based on 2012 population estimates. Every pixel represents 100,000 people. Shaded by percentage Unreached.
