Wild Ireland:

Life in Ireland Conor W. O'Brien, 2021-04-22 This is the story of life in Ireland a story half a billion years in the making With its castles crannogs and passage tombs Ireland is a land where history looms large but the saga of life on this island dates back millions of years before the first people set foot here In Life in Ireland Conor O'Brien guides the reader on a journey around the island to explore the history of natural life here from the Jurassic Coast of Antrim to the great Ice Age bone beds of Cork Along the way we'll meet some of the astonishing creatures to have called Ireland home through the ages shelled monsters huge marine lizards armoured dinosaurs giant deer mighty mammoths Vital strands in the story of life on Earth have left their mark here including some of the first creatures to crawl onto land or take to the wing This epic journey will take us from the first fossils to the present day to see how our wildlife has adapted to the human age and explore what the future might hold for life in Ireland

Coastal Environments in the West of Ireland John B. Roney, Mark Beekey, 2022-11-16 This multi-authored study explores how the natural sciences and the humanities together can understand the connections between the natural environment the built environment and the cultural heritage of communities along the west coast of Ireland Knowledge of the sea and marine life and what they mean to humanity is dependent on both scientific study and local knowledge which in turn can lead to a greater commitment to sustainability Until the 1950s there was little government support for scientific research nor an interest in helping fisheries beyond near shore catch Irish fisheries remained small underfunded and had difficulty accessing international markets However as this book shows Ireland's cultural heritage demonstrates a deep appreciation for the coastal environment and a sense of place This is preserved in the Irish language in poetry story and music and in the ways the Irish lived with an often wild coastal topography

Bulletin Mercantile Library of Philadelphia,1889 Singing the English Hannah L. Scott,2022-03-31 Late nineteenth century France was a nation undergoing an identity crisis the uncertain infancy of the Third Republic and shifting alliances in the wake of the Franco Prussian War forced France to interrogate the fundamental values and characteristics at the heart of its own national identity Music was central to this national self scrutiny It comes as little surprise to us that Oriental fears desires and anxieties should be a fundamental part of this but what has been overlooked to date is that Britain too provided a thinking space in the French musical world it was often surprisingly and paradoxically represented through many of the same racialist terms and musical tropes as the Orient However at the same time its shared history with France and the explosions of colonial rivalry between the two nations introduced an ever present tension into this musical relationship This book sheds light on this forgotten musical sphere through a rich variety of contemporary sources It visits the caf concert and its tradition of Englishing up with fake hair mocking accents and unflattering dances it explores the reactions both musical and physical to British evangelical bands as they arrived in the streets of France and the colonies it considers the French reception of and fascination with folk music from Ireland and Scotland and it confronts the culture shock felt by French visitors to Britain as they witnessed British music making for the first time Throughout it examines the ways in which this music allowed French society to grapple with the uncertainty of late nineteenth century life providing ordinary French citizens with a means of understanding and interrogating both the Franco British relationship and French identity itself *Catalogue of the Library
