public speaking pedagogy resources and provides a foundation for future research and pedagogical development. Bringing together contributions from both up and coming and senior scholars in the field, this book offers a thorough examination of public speaking guided by research across six key themes: the history of public speaking, the foundations of public speaking, issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, considerations of public speaking across contexts, assessment of public speaking, and the future of public speaking in the twenty-first century. The evidence-based chapters engage with a broad discussion of public speaking through a variety of viewpoints to demonstrate how subtopics are connected and fraught with complexity. Inventing a Voice Molly Meijer Wertheimer, 2004-10-27. Inventing a Voice is a comprehensive work on the lives and communication of twentieth-century first ladies. Using a rhetorical framework, the contributors look at the speaking, writing, media coverage, and interaction and visual rhetoric of American first ladies from Ida Saxton McKinley to Laura Bush. The women's rhetorical devices varied; some practiced a rhetoric without words while others issued press releases, gave speeches, and met with various constituencies. All used interpersonal or social rhetoric to support their husbands' relationships with world leaders, party officials, boosters, and the public. Featuring an extensive introduction and chapter on the First Lady as a Site of American Womanhood, Wertheimer has gathered a collection that includes the post-White House musings of many first ladies capturing their reflections on public expectations and perceived restrictions on their communication. The
