in Behavior Science Ruth Anne Rehfeldt, Traci M. Cihon, Erin B. Rasmussen, 2023-04-28 Women in Behavior Science is a unique text that showcases the perspectives, stories, and lessons of notable female behavior scientists at all stages of their careers with relevance for the field's many women pursuing careers in academia today. With the insights of esteemed female behavior scientists from diverse backgrounds, the book brings together their challenges and successes to include their own distinct perspectives on their professional and personal development. The book includes three sections that span the different phases of the academic lifespan from graduate school to retirement and post-retirement. Each section covers a wide range of topics such as expanding one's work in new and diverse areas, deciding when and how to make transitions, making something out of nothing or very little, navigating relationships with family, children, and life partners both inside and outside of academia, values-based living, how to thrive in competitive environments, and building values-consistent repertoires in settings that may be gender-marginalizing. Presenting a behind-the-scenes view of academia, the authors also provide open and vulnerable narratives about their psychological and socio-cultural experiences, their stories of marginalization, their difficulties with mental and physical health challenges, grief and loss, and caring for others with chronic health conditions. Reframing the cultural level recognition of female behavior scientists today, this book is essential reading for graduate and postgraduate students of Behavioral Science, especially for those focusing on diversity and cultural issues. It is also a must-read for professionals interested in understanding the experiences of diverse groups in this field.

How It Looks Going Back

Doris Knowles Pulis, 2023-08-02 In 1949, taking a break from San Diego's post-World War II bustle, the Knowles family went camping in Canada. Heading home through northwest Montana's Yaak River country, they found a two-bedroom, story-and-a-half log cabin on a small lake. There was neither electricity nor plumbing. Access was via dirt road, slow at best and iffy during the long, hard winters. Darwin Knowles saw a peaceful life, and adventurous wife Marilyn agreed. Third-grader daughter Dee for Doris could attend the one-room school, and three-year-old Bob and Barbara have a safe place to play. Enthusiastic but ignorant of wilderness, living the family moved in that fall, working together to cook and heat with wood, hunt, and fish for food, haul water, and wash clothes by hand. They stayed for six years, during which son Stevie was born. Dee's reminiscence of her childhood in the Yaak presents quirky neighbors, growing girls' adventures, wildlife, huge and tiny, and especially one loving family. As she writes, "It was a cozy, scary, painful, hilarious, dangerous, interesting, and grand time, and the most fun I ever had."
