The American Catholic Who's who Georgina Pell Curtis, Benedict Elder, 1910      The Western George N Fenin, William K. Everson, 2023-04-20 Ground breaking and essential history of the genre highlighted by superb research penetrating insights and sharp entertaining prose Smartly designed with scads of rare b w photos laid out in a dynamic and witty design Print ed For many years the Western film has been strangely and unfairly neglected Although many articles and essays have appeared in general and specialized periodicals all over the world substantially organic books dealing exclusively with the Western are very rare indeed And of all this material the majority has been disguised publicity or at best essays which refused to take the Western seriously the work of writers who knew little or nothing of Westerns writers who glibly referred to the cliché of the hero always kissing his horse instead of the girl leaving it at that We felt therefore that there was not only room but a need for a detailed history of the Western a book which would represent not only a useful study of the industrial and aesthetic growth of a popular movie genre but a critical analysis of it as well For the most part we have adopted a strictly chronological approach but in the parlance of the film it has sometimes been necessary to use flash forwards and cutbacks and even a form of montage in order to follow a thesis through to its logical conclusion Introduction

Twisted Trails Orlando Rigoni, 1965      Neighbours and Successors of Rome Daniel Keller, Jennifer Price, Caroline Jackson, 2014-05-30 Presented through 20 case studies covering Europe and the Near East Neighbours and Successors of Rome investigates development in the production of glass and the mechanisms of the wider glass economy as part of a wider material culture in Europe and the Near East around the later first millennium AD Though highlighting and solidifying chronology patterns of distribution and typology the primary aims of the collection are to present a new methodology that emphasises regional workshops scientific data and the wider trade culture This methodology embraces a shift in conceptual approach to the study of glass by explaining typological change through the existence of a thriving supra national commercial network that responded to market demands and combines the results of a range of new scientific techniques into a framework that stresses co dependence and similarities between the various sites considered Such an approach particularly within Byzantine and Early Islamic glass production is a pioneering concept that contextualises individual sites within the wider region By twinning a critique of archaeometric methods with the latest archaeological research the contributors present a foundation for glass research seen through the lens of consumption demands and geographical necessity that analyses production centres and traditional typological knowledge In so doing they bridge an important divide by demonstrating the co habitability of diverse approaches and disciplines linking for example the production of Campanulate bowls from Gallaecia with the burgeoning international late antique style Equally the particular details of those pieces allow us to identify a regional style as well as local production As such this compilation provides a highly valuable resource for archaeologists anthropologists and art historians      The Bookman ,1921      Country Gentleman ,1921      Dracomantium
