Din, 1955 □□, 2010-03 House and Home in Modern Japan Jordan Sand, 2005 A house is a site the bounds and focus of a community It is also an artifact a material extension of its occupants lives This book takes the Japanese house in both senses as site and as artifact and explores the spaces commodities and conceptions of community associated with it in the modern era As Japan modernized the principles that had traditionally related house and family began to break down Even where the traditional class markers surrounding the house persisted they became vessels for new meanings as housing was resituated in a new nexus of relations The house as artifact and the artifacts it housed were affected in turn The construction and ornament of houses ceased to be stable indications of their occupants social status the home became a means of personal expression and the act of dwelling was reconceived in terms of consumption Amid the breakdown of inherited meanings and the fluidity of modern society not only did the increased diversity of commodities lead to material elaboration of dwellings but home itself became an object of special attention its importance emphasized in writing invoked in politics and articulated in architectural design The aim of this book is to show the features of this culture of the home as it took shape in Japan Space Michael Freeman, 2004 In ultra crowded Japan the constraints of space and form inspire rather than confound That is readily apparent in this fascinating volume featuring impossibly tiny narrow odd shaped habitats that have been transformed into peaceful elegant oases through the innovative use of light openness and visual harmony Form and Space of Japanese Architecture. generation It separates out the young generation of Japanese architects from the crowded distinguished multi generational field they seek to join and investigates the topics that absorb them and the critical issues they face within the new economic reality of Japan and a shifting global order Salient points in the text are illustrated by beautiful descriptive images provided by the architects and from the extensive collection of the author By combining illustrations with timelines and graphics to explain complex ideas the book is accessible to any student seeking to understand contemporary Japanese architecture

Japan, Climate, Space and Concept Koji Yagi,1981 Frank Lloyd Wright and Japan Kevin Nute,2000 Looks at Wright s formal and philosophical debt to Japanese art and architecture Eight areas of influence are examined in detail from Japanese prints to specific individuals and publications and are illustrated with text and drawn analyses The Constructed Other: Japanese Architecture in the Western Mind Kevin Nute,2021-09-30 The Constructed Other argues that the assumed otherness of Japanese architecture has made it both a testbed for Western architectural theories and a source of inspiration for Western designers The book traces three recurring themes in Western accounts of Japanese architecture from the reopening of Japan in the mid nineteenth century to the present day a wish to see Western architectural theories reflected in Japanese buildings efforts to integrate elements of Japanese architecture into Western buildings and a desire to connect contemporary Japanese architecture with Japanese tradition It is suggested that together these narratives have had the effect of creating what amounts to a mythical version of Japanese architecture often at odds with historical fact but which has exercised a powerful influence on the development of building design internationally
