Tennessee Williams Film:

The Films of Tennessee Williams Gene D. Phillips, 1980 Tennessee Williams and Film Maurice Yacowar, 1977 Studies all the film adaptations of Williams's work to date revealing their successes and failures and their profound influence on the cinema Hollywood's Tennessee R. Barton Palmer, William Robert Bray, 2009-04-01 No American dramatist has had more plays adapted than Tennessee Williams and few modern dramatists have witnessed as much controversy during the adaptation process His Hollywood legacy captured in such screen adaptations as A Streetcar Named Desire Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and Suddenly Last Summer reflects the sea change in American culture in the mid twentieth century Placing this body of work within relevant contexts ranging from gender and sexuality to censorship modernism art cinema and the Southern Renaissance Hollywood's Tennessee draws on rarely examined archival research to recast Williams's significance Providing not only cultural context the authors also bring to light the details of the arduous screenwriting process Williams experienced with special emphasis on the Production Code Administration the powerful censorship office that drew high profile criticism during the 1950s and Williams's innovative efforts to bend the code Going well beyond the scripts themselves Hollywood's Tennessee showcases findings culled from poster and billboard art pressbooks and other production and advertising material The result is a sweeping account of how Williams's adapted plays were crafted marketed and received as well as the lasting implications of this history for commercial filmmakers and their audiences ReFocus: The Literary Films of Richard Brooks Homer B. Pettey, R. Barton Palmer, 2023-02-08 ReFocus: The Literary Films of Richard Brooks highlights the accomplishments of one of postwar America's most important and successful directors with an emphasis on the e literarype aspects of his career including his work as a screenwriter and adaptor of such modern classics as Cat on a Hot Tin Roof Lord Jim and The Brothers Karamazov Tennessee Williams. A streetcar named desire Michael Grawe, 2001-03-26

Inhaltsangabe Abstract This paper will compare and contrast the written form of Tennessee Williams play A Streetcar Named Desire with the 1951 movie version It will explain and discuss the major differences between the two focusing on the issue of censorship as it was an important factor in the development of the play from its Broadway form into a film As this paper will show this was due to the fact that during the 1940s and 50s the world of theater in America was much more permissive than that of film This paper will also examine Williams concept of a plastic theater an innovative approach by him which utilized music sound effects movement and lighting to express abstract themes His idea of a plastic theater was closer to the world of film than to the traditional form of the stage and is evident in A Streetcar Named Desire It influenced the adaptation of the play to the big screen The play A Streetcar Named Desire opened at the Ethel Barrymore Theater New York City on December 3 1947 Following The Glass Menagerie it was only the second of Williams plays to be performed on Broadway Despite his relatively short history on the New York stage Streetcar was a great success running for 855 performances It also became the first play to win all three major awards the Pulitzer Prize the New York Drama Critics Circle Award and the

Donaldson Award Film makers were for two years uninterested in turning the play into a motion picture despite its overwhelming popularity This was because A Streetcar Named Desire did not fit the standard Hollywood model for movies in the 1940s which was one of clean wholesome family entertainment Only William Wyler one of Hollywood s most commercially successful directors at that time was interested He thought that it had the potential for box office success given both its popularity and its critical recognition However later he abandoned the project because of the censorship requirements In 1951 the film A Streetcar Named Desire was released directed by Elia Kazan It had grown directly out of the New York stage production which he had also directed Tennessee Williams wrote the screenplay for the film together with Kazan remaining close to the original text Virtually the entire cast was retained for the movie including leads Marlon Brando as Stanley Kowalski Kim Hunter Stella Kowalski and Karl Malden Harold Mitchell or Mitch However as Blanche DuBois Jessica Tandy
