Principles of Contract at Law and in Equity Frederick Pollock, 1881 Contracts Versus Communication Andreas Blume, Inga Deimen, Sean Inoue, 2021 We consider the trade off a principal faces who has to choose between either controlling an agent's action through an incomplete contract or guiding him through non binding communication The principal anticipates receiving private information and must hire an agent to take an action on her behalf Contracts can only specify a limited number of actions as a function of the state The principal is at liberty not to specify actions for some of the states States not covered by the contract induce a communication game We show that close alignment of interests favors communication and thus ceding authority to the agent while strong misalignment favors reliance on contracts In the uniform quadratic environment whenever an optimal contract induces influential communication it splits the communication region there are at least two communication actions separated by contract actions For sufficiently closely aligned interests it is also the case that communication splits the contract region there are at least two contract actions separated by a communication action The separation of distinct communication events relaxes incentive compatibility constraints and therefore helps equalize the size of communication events This highlights the dual role of contracting as both substituting for and facilitating communication the principal uses contracts not only to impose her favorite actions but also to structure communication as a response to dysfunctional parenting and though understanding a youth's mental health status or a parenting style can be helpful complete focus on either is misplaced Adolescent Violence in the Home uses a restorative framework developed by the authors and in use in court systems and organizations around the world to situate violent behaviors in the context of power and the intergenerational cycle of violence Readers will come away from this book with a profound understanding of the social and individual factors that lead youth to use violence and how adolescent violence affects parents and they'll also learn about a variety of interventions that specifically address teen violence against parents Daily Proceedings ...
