Ultimate Rule Of Law:

The Ultimate Rule of Law David M. Beatty, 2004 The Ultimate Rule of Law addresses the age old tension between law and politics by examining whether the personal beliefs of judges come into play in adjudicating on issues of religious freedom sex discrimination and social and economic rights Decisions by the Supreme Courts of India Japan Canada the United States Ireland Israel the Constitutional Courts of Germany Hungary South Africa and the European Court of Human Rights on such controversial issues as government funding of religious schools abortion same sex marriages women in the military and rights to basic shelter and life saving medical treatment are evaluated and compared Beatty develops a radical alternative to the conventional view that in deciding these cases judges engage in an essentially interpretative and thus subjective act relying ultimately on their personal beliefs and political opinions His analysis shows that it is possible to apply an impartial and objective method of judicial review based on the principle of proportionality which acts as an ultimate rule of law and is fully compatible with the ideals of democracy and popular sovereignty Controversially Beatty concludes that although this method of judicial review originated in the United States American judges generally appear to be far less inclined to this conception of constitutional adjudication than their counterparts in Europe Africa and Asia The Nature of International Law Gerry Simpson, 2017-10-05 This title was first published in 2002 The purpose if this volume is to provide a map of some of the great theoretical debates within the discipline of international law The essays included are structured as dialogues between international legal theorists on concrete subjects such as democracy gender compliance sovereignty and justice They represent the most interesting theoretical work undertaken in international law The Law of Love and Love as a Law, Or, Christian Ethics Mark Hopkins, 1877 Jurisprudence, Or, The Theory of the Law Sir John William Salmond, 1907 A Preliminary Treatise on Evidence at the Common Law James Bradley Thayer, 1898 The Law of Love and Love as a Law Mark Hopkins, 1878 Rethinking the Sources of International Law Godefridus J.
