Gerner, 2008 The third edition of Understanding the Contemporary Middle East includes two entirely new chapters one on religion and politics and one on the economies of the Middle East as well as a greatly expanded discussion of the 2003 invasion of Iraq In addition all of the chapters have been fully updated Maps photographs and tables of basic political data enhance the text which has already made its place as the best available introduction to the region Pictures Without Borders Steve Horn, 2005 Steve Horn first visited the Balkans in 1970 in 2003 he returned retracing his tracks revisiting the villages and towns of his previous trip and tracking down the people whom he had met 30 years previously His return was to a country and a people scarred by 10 years of war yet he found many reasons for optimism friendships were rekindled and new relationships forged This is a poignant story and includes several personal contributions from those he met during his travels Exhibition tour to coincide with publication Imagining the Turkish House Carel Bertram, 2008-08 Houses can become poetic expressions of longing for a lost past voices of a lived present and dreams of an ideal future Carel Bertram discovered this truth when she went to Turkey in the 1990s and began asking people about their memories of the Turkish house The fondness and nostalgia with which people recalled the distinctive wooden houses that were once ubiquitous throughout the Ottoman Empire made her realize that the Turkish house carries rich symbolic meaning In this delightfully readable book Bertram considers representations of the Turkish house in literature art and architecture to understand why the idea of the house has become such a potent signifier of Turkish identity Bertram's exploration of the Turkish house shows how this feature of Ottoman culture took on symbolic meaning in the Turkish imagination as Turkey became more Westernized and secular in the early decades of the twentieth century She shows how artists writers and architects all drew on the memory of the Turkish house as a space where changing notions of spirituality modernity and identity as well as the social roles of women and the family could be approached contested revised or embraced during this period of tumultuous change Senior Scholastic , 1974 The Middle East, Abstracts and Index , 1990 Turkey Tom Brosnahan, Pat Yale, 1996 A guide to Turkey for travellers on any budget with 99 detailed maps fine color photos extensive coverage of modern and ancient sights expanded cultural and historical information and of course details on where to stay what to eat and how to buy a Turkish carpet Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
