Evaluations of US Poetry Since 1950, Volume 2 Robert von Hallberg, Robert Faggen, 2021-12 Horace speaks of poetry delighting and instructing While Evaluations of US Poetry since 1950 Volume 1 explores the pleasures of poetry its language forms and musicality volume 2 focuses on the public dimensions In this volume von Hallberg and Faggen have gathered a diverse selection of poets to explore questions such as How does poetry instruct a society with a highly evolved knowledge industry Do poems bear a relation to the disciplined idioms of learning What do poets think of as intellectual work What is the importance of recognizable subject matter What can honestly be said by poets concerning this nation so hungry for learning and so fixated on its own power To these questions the literary critics collected here find some answers in the poetry of Robert Pinsky Susan Howe Robert Hass Anthony Hecht Adrienne Rich Sharon Olds Ed Dorn and August Kleinzahler

Yemeni Poetry on the Frontline Roberta Morano, Janet C.E. Watson, James Dickins, 2025-02-28 Yemeni Poetry on the Frontline investigates popular literary responses to conflict in the different regions of Yemen comparing responses to and expressions of traditional conflict with those to the new externally fuelled conflict In its engagement with diasporic Yemeni communities in the UK the book explores how storytelling and poetry might heighten and enhance both political and public awareness of the situation in Yemen and lead to wider cultural understanding of diasporic and refugee communities in the UK The novelty lies in the focus on literary expressions of conflict and conflict resolution and the bringing together of projects dealing with the diverse regions of Yemen This book will primarily appeal to scholars in Yemeni poetry Arabic literature Arabic dialectology and anthropological linguistics

The Rebellion of Forms in Modern Persian Poetry Farshad Sonboldel, 2024-02-08 An analysis of the aesthetic cultural and political aspects of alternative poetic movements and individual poets in three periods the Constitutional Revolution 1900 1920 the post constitutional era 1920 1940 and the ascendancy of modernism 1940 1960 Farshad Sonboldel shines new light on the history of modern Persian poetry by reimagining the roles that the aesthetic experimentations of alternative poets played in different phases of the literary revolution in modern Persian poetry Dominant narratives portray modern Persian poetry as a gradual rational and moderate change in the classical regime of aesthetics as well as a response to and reflection of cultural and socio political changes within Iranian society They also disregard the significance of radical experiments by alternative poets and undervalue the part they played in the initiation and progress of the so called literary revolution These mainstream narratives minimize the socio political engagement of literary works with the direct reflection of the social reality and thus neglect the way many alternative poems struggle with socio political issues through deconstructing the old and constructing new aesthetic systems Each chapter of The Rebellion of Forms in Modern Persian Poetry is centred around poems chosen for their potential to showcase notable experiments of pioneer movements and individuals in each given period Examining the formal and thematic aspects of these poems this book reformulates the story of modern Persian poetry and unravels the relationship between radical aesthetic changes in the practice of poetry and resistance against political and cultural domination in society

Subjects in Poetry Daniel Brown, 2021-11-17 Daniel Brown's Subjects in Poetry is the first book to examine the broad and imposing topic of poetic subject matter probing both what poems are about and how that influences the way they're made. It comprises one poet's attempt to plumb the nature of his art to ask how the selection of material remains a crucial yet unexplored area of poetic craft and to suggest the vast range of possible subjects for poems. The book begins by venturing a novel definition of subject derived from Robert Frost's dictum that poetry constitutes an art of having something to say. Brown posits that a poem can say something by expressing, evoking, or addressing. He considers each of these ways of saying in turn, first defining it and then looking at poems in which it predominates. Brown next makes a wide-ranging case for the value of subjects to poems, poets, and the art of poetry, especially at a time when many poems appear subjectless. He concludes the book with practical guidance on finding subjects, improving them, and realizing their potential. Replete with thoughtful readings of poems, both classic and contemporary, Subjects in Poetry should appeal to poets across all levels and readers interested in understanding the art and practice of poetry.

Subject Matter Baron Wormser, 2003 Each poem in Baron Wormser's sixth collection Subject Matter is fourteen lines. In the tradition of works such as Robert Lowell's Notebook, Wormser uses this form to concisely pursue a wide range of topics. The sixty-one poems range in tone from fierce to wry, from tender to brisk, from quizzical to evocative, just as the topics range from tattoos to Buddhism, from truck driving to Israel, from global warming to orgasms. What all the poems share is a willingness to pursue uneasy truths, a willingness to encounter how deeply the public realm touches the private realm.
