The Big House In Ireland Reality And Representation:

The Big House in Ireland Jacqueline Genet,1991 The Big House has been an element of tragedy in the course of Ireland's history and it is considered such by contemporary novelists such as Aidan Higgins and Jennifer Johnson

Nineteenth-Century Photographs and Architecture Micheline Nilsen,2017-07-05 Eschewing the limiting idea that nineteenth century architecture photography merely reflects functionality the objective of this collection is to reflect the aesthetic intellectual and cultural concerns of the time The essays hold appeal for social and cultural historians as well as those with an interest in the fields of art history urban geography history of travel and tourism Nineteenth century photographers captured what could be seen and what they wanted to be seen Their images informed of exploration progress heritage and destruction Architecture was a staple subject for the first generation of photographers as it patiently tolerated the long exposures of the early processes During its formative decades photography responded to evolutionary cultural forces of market and artistic production Photographs of architecture reflected a specific political or social context modulated through individual points of view For this reason the examination of each photographic image as a primary visual document and an aesthetic object rather than a technical milestone on a chronological trajectory affords a richer multi faceted approach to the extensive and complex corpus of photographs taken by photographers all over the world This project acknowledges the importance of technique in the early decades of photography but focuses on the thematic content of the material It places the photography of architecture in an international context under the contemporary critical lens sharpened by theoretical and cultural examinations of the topic

The Decline of the Big House in Ireland Terence A. M. Dooley,2001 This is a history of Ireland's big houses from the post famine years until the 1950s The Big Houses and Landed Estates of Ireland Terence A. M. Dooley,2007 This book is designed to provide those interested in the history of landed estates and Irish big houses with practical advice regarding the availability of primary sources their strengths and weaknesses It examines the vast array of sources available for the study of big houses other than estate papers such as published and unpublished auction catalogues photographs oral archives and architectural drawings and provides an overview of the history of landed estates and big houses in Ireland from 1800 to the present day Irish Women Writers Alexander G. Gonzalez,2005-11-30 Irish women writers have a large following and their works are attracting large amounts of scholarly and critical attention Through roughly 75 alphabetically arranged entries written by more than 35 expert contributors this reference overviews the lives and works of Irish women writers active in a range of genres and periods Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer's critical reception and a list of works by and about the author The volume closes with a selected general bibliography Ireland has an especially lively literary tradition and works by Irish writers have long been recognized as interesting and influential While male writers have received the bulk of the critical attention given to Irish literature contemporary women writers are among the most widely read Irish authors This reference overviews the lives and works of Irish women writers active in a range of periods and genres Included are roughly 75 alphabetically arranged entries written by more than 35 expert contributors Among the writers discussed are Elizabeth Bowen Mary Dorsey Lady Isabella Augusta Gregory Anne Hartigan Norah Hoult Paula Meehan Iris Murdoch Edna O'Brien Katharine Tynan Sheila Wingfield And many more Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a review of the writer's critical reception and a list of works by and about the writer The volume closes with a selected general bibliography

Ireland and the Renaissance court David Edwards, Brendan Kane, 2024-09-17 Ireland and the Renaissance court is an interdisciplinary collection of essays exploring Irish and English courts courtiers and politics in the early modern period c 1450 1650 Chapters are contributed by both established and emergent scholars working in the fields of history literary studies and philology They focus on Gaelic c irteanna the indigenous centres of aristocratic life throughout the medieval period on the regnal court of the emergent British empire based in London at Whitehall and on Irish participation in the wider world of European elite life and letters Collectively they expand the chronological limits of early modern Ireland to include the fifteenth century and recreate its multi lingual character through exploration of its English Irish and Latin archives This volume is an innovative effort at moving beyond binary approaches to English Irish history by demonstrating points of contact as well as contention

Spiritual Wounds Síobhra Aiken, 2022-03-01 This book challenges the widespread scholarly and popular belief that the Irish Civil War 1922 1923 was followed by a traumatic silence It achieves this by opening an alternative archive of published testimonies which were largely produced in the 1920s and 1930s testimonies were written by pro and anti treaty men and women in both English and Irish Nearly all have eluded sustained scholarly attention to date However the act of smuggling private painful experience into the public realm especially when it challenged official memory making or even forgetting demanded the cautious deployment of self protective narrative strategies As a result many testimonies from the Irish Civil War emerge in non conventional hybridised and fictionalised forms of life writing This book re introduces a number of these testimonies into public debate It considers contemporary understandings of mental illness and how a number of veterans both men and women self consciously engaged in projects of therapeutic writing as a means to heal the spiritual wounds of civil war It also outlines the prevalence of literary representations of revolutionary sexual violence challenging the assumptions that sexual violence during the Irish revolution was either rare or hidden

In the Wake of the Tiger David Clark, Rubén Jarazo Álvarez, 2010-09 The field of Irish Studies has undergone a period of great fruitfulness over the last decade Concurrent with the economic revolution and subsequent financial crash an immense interest in the island of Ireland and her cultural practices has been apparent from parts of the globe and academic debate on Irish culture and society has been intense and prosperous This volume contains a number of essays which approach a variety of issues raised within the framework of post Celtic Tiger Ireland with contributions from scholars working in Europe The book is divided into four sections on Trauma

Studies on the relationship between Ireland with Europe and the rest of the world on Audiovisual Studies and on Ireland and the Celtic Tiger The essays reflect a variety of issues which are of great relevance to an understanding of the world of Irish Studies at the end of the first decade of the twenty first century

Irish Protestant Identities Mervyn Busted, Frank Neal, Jonathan Tonge, 2008 Irish Protestant Identities is a major multi disciplinary portrayal and analysis of the often overlooked Protestant tradition in Ireland A distinguished team of contributors explore what is distinctive about the religious minority on the island of Ireland Protestant contributions to literature culture religion and politics are all examined Accessible and engaging throughout the book examines the contributions to Irish society from Protestant authors Protestant churches the Orange Order Unionist parties and Ulster loyalists Most books on Ireland have concentrated upon the Catholicism and Nationalism which shaped the country in terms of literature poetry politics and outlook This book instead explores how a minority tradition has developed and coped with existence in a polity and society in which some historically felt under represented or neglected

Edna O'Brien and the Art of Fiction Maureen O'Connor, 2021-10-15 Edna O'Brien and the Art of Fiction provides an urgent retrospective consideration of one of the English speaking world's best selling and most prolific contemporary authors This study considers the pioneering ways O'Brien represents women's experience family relationships the natural world sex creativity and death and her work's long anticipation of movements such as metoo

Writing Irishness in Nineteenth-century British Culture Neil McCaw, 2004 The representation of the Irish in English canonical fictions was to have been the subject of this monograph The editor realised the enormity of the task and limited the present volume to an overview of the Irish Irish authors and Ireland in English literature

Irish Economic and Social History, 1992 Irish University Review, 2006 A journal of Irish studies Feminism and Territoriality Susanne Hagemann, 2005 Women in Ulster Politics, 1890-1940 Diane Urquhart, 2000 Focusing on the political role of women in north east Ulster this book considers the suffrage campaign women's involvement in unionist and nationalist associations and their position in municipal and national politics The extent of women's political influence its effect and the means by which it was gained are all examined Urquhart teaches at the School of Modern History Queen's University Belfast

Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR That is Only War Caleb Wood Richardson, 2006 Modern Irish Writers and the Wars Kathleen Devine, 1999 This collection of papers by leading figures in the field of Irish history and literary criticism were given or were intended to be given at a University of Ulster symposium in 1993 They discuss the influence that conflict world and civil has had on twentieth century Irish writers

Strange Country Seamus Deane, 1997 This book identifies the origin the development and ultimately the success of the Irish literary tradition in English as one of the first literatures that is both national and colonial It demonstrates the remarkable relationships between works as diverse as Joyce's Dubliners and Bram Stoker's Dracula and the worlds of the French Revolution and the Irish famine Deane also shows how almost all the activities of Irish print culture novels songs typefaces historical analyses poems struggle within the limits imposed by its inheritance
